PA NEWC OBSERVES

Another consignment of 28 Checker cabs passed thru the business district last night on the way to New York City where they will be placed in taxi service. They were driven here from Kalamazoo, Mich., the manufacturing point.

City employes are being kept busy on the streets these days. In addition to continuing the work of dragging the dirt streets and rolling them in preparation for winter, men are being used to sweep up the fallen leaves along the streets.

The weather man is having a hard time trying to stir up a worthwhile rain. On several occasions lately it has clouded up as though it were going to cut loose, but only a little shower has resulted. It would take several weeks of rain to get down into the sub-strata and moisten it up, it is claimed, the earth being extremely dry near the surface.

Local hunters are getting their cannons oiled up and a supply of ammunition laid by in preparation for the opening of the hunting season Monday. Many a little rabbit frisking about with glee will be turned into pot pie next week.

On all sides, Pa Newc learns of organizations which are making plans to do relief work this winter. Unless this work is coordinated, there is bound to be a lot of duplication. Every church or lodge which is planning to do relief work this winter, should see to it that the names of the people they are assisting are turned over to the mayor's relief committee, which will be the big central relief organization.

The offer of the Legion of Honor to take over the work of registering and marking the graves of ex-service men in the county is a commendable

Mrs. Ruth Judd Refuses To Talk About Accomplice

Fred Williams, Young Chemist Of El Paso, Texas, Admits Helping "Tigress"

THEORY BORNE OUT WOMAN HAD HELP

Frozen Silence Maintained By Woman Slayer Even When She Faces Confessor

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 29.—Frozen silence was maintained by Winnie Ruth Judd today on the "confession" of Fred Williams El Paso youth, that he was an accomplice in the murder of her two woman friends.

Mrs. Judd, the "Tigress," declared her attorneys had instructed her not to talk about the case.

Williams was taken into the presence of Mrs. Judd and asked if he recognized her.

Refuses To Talk

"I won't talk if she won't," he said.

As Williams was being led away by his guards, the woman shouted after him:

"Don't talk until you see my attorneys."

Williams, a chemist, told police he witnessed the battle in a Phoenix, Ariz., apartment which culminated in the killing of Agnes Leroi and Hedwig Samuelson. He declared she shot Mrs. Leroi and then helped Mrs. Judd pack the bodies into the two trunks and a suitcase.

While her attorneys fought for more time in which to perfect a defense, Mrs. Judd herself, confined in the hospital ward of the county jail, declined to either confirm or

Attempt To Rob Bank At Albion Is Frustrated

Two Masked Bandits Fail To Break Through Doors At Albion Bank

ESCAPE ON ROUTE TOWARD MEADVILLE

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Police today were seeking two masked bandits who failed in their bold daylight attempt to hold up the Albian State Bank at Albion, near here.

Armed with sawed-off shotguns, the two bandits drew up before the bank in a small roadster. The doors were barred as the bank closes earlier than usual on Wednesdays.

The two bandits attempted to crash the doors of the bank while a crowd of townspeople soon gathered. Warning the crowd and threatening them with their guns, the would-be robbers leaped into their machine and sped away toward Meadville.

Police obtained the license number of the car and warned all officials in this district to be on the lookout.

The robbery attempt occurred a few minutes after George McIntosh, cashier, closed the doors for the day.

Butler County Girl Is Killed By Automobile

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 29.—Struck by an automobile near her home west of here, Lorraine A. Shakespeare, 9, was fatally injured, according to police reports today.

The car was driven by Leo R. Liebler, of Woodlawn Station, who ran into a ditch in an effort to avoid striking the girl.

SIX FLEE BURNING HOME AS FLAMES BRING $500 DAMAGE

A family of six escaped from the second floor of a flame-filled building on Alvaretta boulevard, off Butler avenue extension, Shenango township, in the fog and darkness of early morning today when fire of mysterious origin brought a loss of $500 before firemen had checked the flames.

Jacob Klish and his wife Catherine were overcome after the excitement of carrying out their children to safety and were revived by neighbors.

The fire flared up in two separate parts of the cellar, burning up thru the first floor and filling the rooms with smoke shortly before 3 a. m.

Frances Klish, 14, asleep in a second floor bedroom, was awakened by smoke and shouted to her sister Mary, 16. The daughter aroused the other members of the family, including the parents who had been fast asleep while the floor downstairs was being consumed by the cellar fire.

The father found the stairs to the first floor blocked by smoke and flames and jumped from the second floor thru a window. He obtained a ladder from the rear of the building and placed it against the side of the house.

John, 14, and Eddie, 4, were asleep at the time and were carried out by their parents and older sisters. The six escaped in their night clothes.

Central station firemen who arrived in response to calls by neighbors of the Klish family found, they reported, that the blaze had started in the cellar in the northwest and in the northeast corners.

Quick work on the part of firemen directed by Assistant Fire Chief Stockman saved the building from complete destruction. Stockman estimated the damage to the building was $300 and contents $200.

The home was insured.

Fire officials today launched an investigation of the blaze.

'Autumn Revue' Is Presented By School Children

Relief Fund Benefit Performance Staged On Wednesday Night

TO BE REPEATED AGAIN TONIGHT

Colorful Show Makes Hit With Audience At Senior High

Children of the New Castle public schools demonstrated just how good they could be Wednesday evening in the Senior High School auditorium when an "Autumn Revue" was presented. In effect it was a colorful variety show with the different schools presenting acts that were entirely different.

There was color in the show, plenty of it. There was melody in the show, a lot of it. And added to these two there was a load of genuine entertainment. From the opening curtain to the closing one there was kaleidoscopic change of characters trooping across the stage. Mother Goose characters were succeeded by Toy Town singers. The trees of the forest were little tads in colorful gowns and following them came gypsies, witches, skeletons, hobgoblins and animals. Later there were pirates and ghosts and a troupe of young colored singers that were most entertaining.

For Relief Fund.

The idea of the "Autumn Revue" was not so much an entertainment

Readjusting Of Forces Seen As Aid To Business

Advocates Of Six-Hour Day Encouraged By Report Of President's Committee

UNEMPLOYMENT BIGGEST EVIL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Advocates of a shorter working day and of the "spread-out system" of employment, so as to create as many jobs as possible, found considerable encouragement today in the ten-point relief program formulated by the president's organization on unemployment relief.

While making no specific reference to the movement for a six-hour day, the president's committee indirectly approved it by advising that a great deal could be accomplished in overcoming unemployment if employers would "readjust" their permanent forces.

Need Readjusting

On this point, the committee said: "There are many banks in any urban district, to take a special in-

Search Titles Of Ellwood City Post Office Site

Land Will Not Be Taken Over Until Titles Have Been Fully Investigated

NO DECISION MADE ON DRAWING PLANS

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Acquisition of the land for Ellwood City's new post office building will not be made until the United States Justice Department has completed the task of searching the titles to the land selected by the Treasury Department it was stated by Treasury authorities today.

Site Approved

The Treasury Department has definitely approved the site bounded by Crescent avenue, Seventh street and Cedar way as the location of the building and has accepted the owner's price of $40,000.

This money, however, cannot be paid over to the owners and the land acquired by the Treasury Department, until the Justice Department has learned that the titles to the land are clear of all obligation.

Agents of that department are now engaged in this procedure, the Treasury said today.

No Architect Yet

Just when the searching of the titles will be completed is a matter of conjecture, perhaps in a few days and perhaps not for several weeks, Treasury officials stated.

It was said at the office of the supervising architect today that whether the plans for the Ellwood building would be drawn by an outside private architect or by Treasury draftsmen, has not yet been decided. When the Treasury wishes to expedite a project, it calls upon some private architect to draw the plans.

Faith Needed In Economic Fight, Says Sen. Davis

Fear Has Supplanted Faith, And Halts Effort To Regain Prosperity

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Fear has supplanted faith in the effort to regain prosperity for the United States, U. S. Senator James J. Davis today had told an audience here at the presentation to the Carnegie Museum of the ship's bell from the U. S. S. Pittsburgh.

Senator Davis was the principal speaker at the ceremonies in which the bell from the decommissioned warship was accepted by the Carnegie Institute.

"As I review this depression," Senator Davis said, "out of which we are emerging, it seems to me fear has done more than wage-cutting to curtail our buying power and retard our progress toward normalcy in business and industry."

Mrs. Oscar Carlson of Garfield avenue has returned home from Ashtabula, O., where she visited with friends.

HOMESICK—STARS ON BROADWAY

Gloria Mossman, who hails from Youngstown, O., is homesick and doesn't care much about New York. But she has won a place in the front rank of the "Scandals" chorus and is helping to make tired business men forget that weary feeling.

Another Alias Used By Powers Has Been Found

Mystery Shrouded "Charles Rogers" Just Another Name For "Modern Bluebeard"

(International News Service)

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 29.—The mystery-shrouded "Charles Rogers," repeatedly named by Harry F. Powers, alleged "Bluebeard" slayer of two women and three children, as the actual killer, is just another alias of Powers, Sheriff W. B. Grimm announced here today.

Sheriff Grimm's announcement came in the form of a denial that Powers has received letters from "Rogers." The sheriff is the custodian for mail sent to the suspected "Bluebeard," now awaiting trial at the state prison at Moundsville.

Powers, Sheriff Grimm disclosed, has been the recipient of scores of letters from all sections of the country, but he denied flatly that any communications had been received from the mysterious "Rogers."

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—Thomas A. Edison left an estate valued at 12 million dollars, it became known today when his will was filed for probate in the surrogate's court.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—The will of Thomas A. Edison, filed for probate here today, bequeaths all of the shares of the capital stock of Thomas A. Edison, Inc., to be divided equally between his two sons, Charles Edison and Theodore M. Edison. To these sons also is given the land and premises known as the Edison laboratory.

The will contains no provisions for Mrs. Edison, the widow. This is explained, however, by the statement of the testator that "my dear wife, Mina Edison, is already adequately provided for through gifts from me and otherwise and for this reason I make no provision for her in this will."

Wood Cleared Away From Site Of Dam Is Given To Needy

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Lewis E. Staley, chairman of the Water and Power Resources Board in the Department of Forests and Waters, today announced that wood cleared away at the site of the Pymatuning dam in Crawford county, would be available for the needy in that section.

Information received at the board offices here stated that there is a demand for fuelwood among the needy in that vicinity.

Unemployed in need of fuel will be permitted to cut wood for home consumption upon application at the office of the resident engineer in charge of construction at the dam site, Staley said.

Many acres of timber with small commercial value must be cleared to allow space for construction of the Pymatuning Dam which, when created, will form the largest artificial lake in Pennsylvania.

MacDonald Prepares To Carry Out Mandate Accorded By Election

Prime Minister Has Secret Conference With King On Situation

GIVEN ACCLAIM BY POPULACE

Plans Being Made For Operation Of "National Government" Program

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Faced with the task of enacting national legislation in a House of Commons with a majority so large as to be "embarrassing," Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald lost no time today in making use of the "Doctor Mandate" accorded him by the people of Great Britain at the polls.

His first act was to visit Buckingham Palace, where for almost an hour he was closted in secret with King George. Enthusiastic crowds gave him a tremendous ovation upon his arrival at the Palace and upon his departure.

Immediately after leaving the palace, Premier MacDonald plunged into conference with his advisers, preparatory to a formal cabinet meeting this afternoon.

Election Diseussed.

The prime minister described his conference with King George as "very cordial" but gave no indication of what transpired at the meeting. It was understood, however, that the results of the election, which gave the National government a majority of almost 500 in the House of Commons, were discussed in detail.

Soon after his return to 10 Downing Street, MacDonald conferred with Lord Saney, Lord Chancellor in the National Government; Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer; J. H. Thomas, secretary of state for home affairs and Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party.

Seeks Advice.

It was understood the premier planned to pool advice from all sources and frame his policy accordingly. First announcement of the new policy is expected to be made in the Lord Mayor's banquet speech at the Guild Hall on November 9.

Meanwhile, the premier's first step

After a seance with the weather man today the South Side Board of Trade is in a position to announce that they do not think it will rain for the Hallowe'en parade tonight. The parade tonight will be the only Hallowe'en parade in the city this year. Realizing this, the South Side Board of Trade has made more than ordinary preparations. A long list of prizes has been donated by

Not a soul can you discern in a car to get a lift, then you start to walk along, and the minutes how they drift. But about the time you get to the place you want to be, there are autos full of friends, empty wagons two or three, seems coincident I know, still it comes to you and me, when your car is in the shop, weather's golden, sixty three.

Rescue Work Is Continued For Trapped Miners

Mine Rescue Teams Work Long Hours To Reach Six Entombed Miners

BELIEVE ALL OF MINERS PERISHED

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Sweating, grimy men dug and burrowed with grim determination in the Mocanaqua mine of the West End Coal company today in a race with death which, despite their heroic efforts, may have been decided more than 100 hours ago.

Silence, broken only by the sound of dripping water and the tapping of picks and shovels, has shrouded the interior of the mine since Saturday night when six men were trapped behind hundreds of tons of coal and rock by a cave-in that followed an explosion in the workings.

Rescue efforts will continue at top speed, officials said, until the men are brought out.

stance . . . that could offer at least part time employment of a number of the white collar group if their officers were willing to readjust their forces . . . the same situation exists in every section of the more intensively organized business groups".

"It is the considered opinion of this committee," the report continued, "that we have arrived at a phase of our industrial progress where it is necessary to adopt a new attitude toward work itself.

"The responsibility to provide work for every willing, able citizen must carry with it the responsibility for seeing that available work is distributed with attention to the best interests of the nation.

"This means only that in giving employment, management must consider not only productive efficiency of the worker but also the latter's capacity for self help and to meet his responsibilities to his community. To carry the thought one step further: It entails that in laying off or hiring labor, or in spreading labor, preference be given in order as between equally efficient workers to:

"Married men with dependents, residents in the community six months or more.

Plan Outlined

"Single men or women with dependents, similarly resident; single men or women, above school age, without dependents, but with no other means of support, similarly resident.

"We believe that adoption of so simple a policy will have eventual impressive influence upon the general well-being of communities, not only, but even of the whole country. It also conforms with the growing belief that, under modern conditions, industry cannot reach its highest development except through the widest possible distribution of employment income and the widest possible spread of general prosperity."

one. The soldier boys themselves know more about where these graves are located than any other person and should be able to carry out the task most successfully.

Although dispatches from London some time ago stated that Mahatma Ghandi would not come to America, he was walking the streets of New Castle last night. Well, it looked like him, anyway. This Hallowe'en edition of Ghandi was attired in the regulation outfit, his face was darkened to the Ghandi shade and he created quite a furore. He was accompanied by several delighted escorts.

Sportsmen of the district will weigh the significance of County Game Protector Frank Coen's reference to hunter-farmer cooperation in his Kiwanis talk of yesterday. It needn't be said that those who disrespect farmers' rights on property privately owned comprise only a meagre number. Most of them abide by the land owners wishes.

Last night's showing of "An Autumn Revue" impressed the audience that saw it. Its entertainment value ranks high, but even still there's a greater value behind it. Needy school children will have milk to drink during the coming term because of it.

If signs mean anything, the local sale of soap should be taking a boost. Hallowe'eners seem to prefer it for celebrating—at least around the downtown windows.

There is certainly a chance for a lot of employment around the city in raking up leaves. Many of the finest lawns are nearly covered with fallen leaves at the present time.

Postal authorities are already making plans to take care of the Christmas mailing rush. Several score of extras will be employed again in this county this year, as in previous years, to aid in handling the mails.

Pa Newc noticed a blind man walking along East North street Wednesday, carrying an unusual sort of cane. The handle of the cane was of nickel-plate and for some reason or other when the handle was clasped tightly the tip of the cane moved up and down.

hours in determining what, in their minds, would be best for the lad and his future. They rejected the insanity plea presented for him, which like the first degree murder verdict, would have meant life imprisonment at Walla Walla. The verdict which was reached the jury announced, appeared to offer the youthful delinquent a better chance for rehabilitation.

Receives Verdict Calmly

Herbert received the verdict calmly. He smiled shook hands with newspapermen and court attaches. He also slyly poked Prosecutor E. E. Halsey in the ribs, wished him good night and then turned to his grandmother to embrace her.

While the jury was reaching its verdict Herbert talked with J. T. Tucler, wealthy Pomeroy, Wash., cattleman, whose interests in the child brought him actively into the case. He seemed to be reconciled to the fact that his days of liberty were over, but he was particularly anxious to find out if he would be allowed to continue his study of music.

Herbert reached in his pocket and brought forth his harmonica and gave it a few tentative blows before he was admonished to stop by his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Addington.

Restive, Herbert, while waiting for the return of the jury, asked to be taken for a walk. As he walked out of the door he vaulted on to a bannister and slid to the bottom.

The boy pounced on a cigarette package which he saw on the sidewalk. He vented his disappointment when he found it was empty. It was tobacco which lured him into the store where he shot the elderly sheriff to death. He testified he saw the tobacco in the window of the store, so he decided to break in to obtain it. When interrupted by officers he pulled a gun and shot Wormell dead.

league and the W. C. T. U. while Hart is an avowed wet.

Eldred won the nomination in a special primary against a field of 13 Republican candidates, seven of whom were from Saginaw county. His strength in the rural sections gave him a slight plurality, while the Saginaw county vote was split.

Hart has the advantage of coming from Saginaw county, which has furnished the congressman from the eighth district for many years.

The district is overwhelmingly Republican normally. The last time it sent a Democrat to congress was in 1897, when Ferdinand Brucker, a Democrat, and father of the present Republican governor of Michigan, Wilber M. Brucker, served one term in 1897.

Hart is basing his hopes for turning in a Democratic victory on the wet vote and hopes that he can get a large number of votes in Saginaw county that are normally Republican because it is his home county. Eldred on the other hand is depending on the solid vote of the other five counties, which are mostly rural, and generally dry.

Lowering Wages Of Ford Workers

feature as it was to provide funds for the school relief fund which will be used this winter in providing food and shoes for needy youngsters. However, after seeing the performance Wednesday evening, you can be very sure that this show is not just a lot of youngsters on a stage, it is a tuneful, colorful, entertaining pot pourri of original skits that are worth seeing for themselves alone.

The Highland and Arthur McGill schools opened the show with a Mother Goose Frolic. Little Bo Peep, Jack Horner, Little Miss Muffet, and their host of Mother Goose friends trooped out from a huge book, with a chorus of youngsters backing them up with jingling ditties.

Terrac Avenue and Aiken followed with a Toy Town chorus, and the Parade of the Wooden Soldiers again marched in formation.

Rose Avenue and Oak Street had what was probably the most colorful spectacle when one hundred youngsters garbed in green showed a forest scene in song. Then came the frost and the trees changed to red and golden and yellow.

Bingville Buglers.

Croton Avenue would have to have a band worked into its act and they presented the Bingville Band Rehearsal. The musicians were dressed as backwoods musicians but their music was big city stuff.

A Gypsy Revel by Mahoning and Lawrence schools finished the first part. One imagined himself in a camp of Romany Gypsies as the boys and girls sang and danced on the stage.

In the intermission the Senior high school band played several numbers, directed by Joseph Replogle.

Opening the second half the spectators got a thrill when skeletons rose from back of headstones, and two little tots drew a laugh at their fright in going through a graveyard after a Hallowe'en party. This was by the West Side and Thaddeus Stevens schools.

Lincoln-Garfield furnished a Festival Chorus which provided a straight musical skit that was enjoyed. The youngsters sang surprisingly well together and showed the result of training.

Franklin Junior high school showed the death of Pagliacci in pantomime and if you know the story of Pagliacci you have the idea.

Washington Junior high school went for dramatics in their skit, presenting "At the Stroke of Twelve" a spooky thing in which the ghosts help a deserving young man to get a sweetheart with a sock full of money coming to her.

North Street school presented an entirely colored cast and how these youngsters sang the old plantation melodies was almost worth the admission itself. One lad put on a break down dance that was clever.

"Walk the Plank" a Pirate squall in which some misanthropists were tried for refusing to help charitable causes in their home city gave the spectators another eye full of color and an earful of harmony.

The "Autumn Revue" is a clever thing and you must see it tonight, which is the last performance. It was produced under the direction of Miss Gladys Rich, supervisor of music for the schools of New Castle and showed plenty of originality and skill.

French Vessels Reported Safe In Arabian Sea

First Reports Were To Effect That Sloop And Two Subs Were Missing

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Fears that 200 French sailors had perished in the sinking of a French naval sloop and two submarines in the Arabian sea were dissipated today when the ministry of marine announced that the vessels had arrived safely at Port Said, Egypt.

Reports that the three vessels had sunk during a storm originated in Karachi, India, when the ships failed to reach there after leaving Aden on the southern coast of Arabia.

The announcement of the ministry of marine indicated, however, that the warships had not been destined for Karachi, but had come northward through the Red sea to the Egyptian port.

The French consul at Karachi had broadcast an appeal to ships in the Arabia sea to look for them missing naval vessels, fearing that they had sunk during a storm and undersea disturbances.

There were 110 men aboard the Sloop and 94 men on the two submarines, according to information here.

Steady Improvement For Coke Production

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Slow but steady improvement in coke production in this region was noted in a survey by International News Service of leading operations, with a new high regional total of 9,380 tons set during the past week.

An increase of 380 tons over the preceding week brings the production back up to the halfway mark of production for the same period in 1930.

General production conditions remained virtually unchanged during the week with but two or three plants working full time. Resumption of 30 ovens at Lincoln was the only change in the active list, bringing total ovens in work up to 845.

The production record showed the Connellsville district put out 2200 tons of coke during the week which the lower Connellsville district produced 7,180 tons, being responsible for the entire increase in production. As during the previous week, merchant producers were the only ones active in the field.

Why not tax big incomes more? Because it takes money to win elections and the boys won't contribute for the fun of it.

GLEANERS' CLASS HOLDS MASQUERADE

One of the delightful events of this socially busy week was the masquerade party given Tuesday evening by the members of the Gleaners' class of the First Baptist church, with their husbands and families as guests.

The assembly room was most cleverly decorated in a style appropriate to the Hallowe'en season and the background was a fitting one for the humorous, grotesque and unique costumes worn by the group.

The decorating had been done by Mrs. Elsie Fox, Mrs. Helen Mayberry and Mrs. Margaret Mitchell.

After a great deal of merriment in trying to identify the various peculiar characters, masks were doffed and a well planned program was presented by Miss Verna Bailer and her assistants, Mrs. Loretta Bender and Mrs. Nell Conn.

After the merriment had subsided the guests were ushered to the dining room and partook of the delicious refreshments prepared and served by Mrs. Hazel Russell, Mrs. Olive Barbour and Miss Marietta Dickson, and while seated about the table a clever contest was staged.

At the conclusion of the evening the guests most heartily congratulated the committees on the success of the event.

Merry Makers Meet.

Members of the Merry Makers club were entertained in a royal manner Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Hunt, West Grant street, for the regular bi-weekly session.

Cards were the pastimes of the evening and at conclusion of play lovely prizes were awarded Mrs. V. R. Edgington and Mrs. Joseph Heaney for their prowess at the game.

The guests were invited to the dining room after play and here the table was centered with a clever Hallowe'en centerpiece. The same suggestions were carried out in the decorations and dainty menu served by the hostess and her little daughter, Florence Elizabeth.

Mrs. W. D. Gillespie of Walmo will entertain the club members on November 11.

Later a period of games, contests, stunts and fortune telling was in progress, keeping the hours lively. Special attractions included the vocal selection given by the Misses Ruth Hughes and Jane Williams, a duet; and Charlotte and Marie Riley who entertained with solos.

The house was appropriately decorated with laughing pumpkin faces which lighted each window in the house, huge corn stalks, autumn leaves scattered about, and numerous black cats, witches, etc., making a fitting setting for the occasion, and adding much wierdness to the evening.

Before departing for home, the guests were served a delicious lunch by Miss McConahy, assisted by Mildred Gregor, Frances Davis and Mrs. Chester Hetrick. Hallowe'en appointments were cleverely used in the menu, and novelties of the same were given each guest.

While dancing was the chief diversion, there was also a mock trial game which added to the fun. It took the form of a murder case with Elroy Lockley as district attorney, Ron McCoy as culprit and Charles Matthews as the culprit's victim.

Juding of the most attractive costume worn by the lady guests also proved a feature. Judges Dean Staley, Alec Samuels and Charles Matthews chose Miss Geraldine McClelland's colonial gown as the best, after the costumed dancers had paraded in a revue march around the hall.

Later in the evening came a period of refreshments, at which time the group enjoyed an appropriate Hallowe'en lunch.

Arrangements for the evening were ably directed by Mike Bowden, with Al Owens and Alec Samuels for assistants. Several of the girls assisted in the serving.

ELECTION IN ENGLAND

ROUT of the radicals in England in the election of Tuesday is significant.

It is striking emphasis of the fact that "it is very much easier to point out what is wrong with the operation of the government, than it is to conduct the same government when bearing the responsibility."

The Labor government, which had been carrying the responsibility for the British government program for some time past, was repudiated by the voters at the polls, and there will be another change in methods on the part of the English Parliament. Prior to the last election preceding the one this week, the Laborites had things much their own way. The citizens of England expected great things from the Labor government. The reaction in the overwhelming vote against the Labor government on Tuesday shows that they were manifestly disappointed. The radicals were voted out of office without ceremony.

The success of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, who was re-elected to his post in parliament, despite the fact that his Labor party had repudiated him, was an epochal political upheaval in England. Placing the welfare of his country above the precepts of political party, Ramsay MacDonald waged an uphill fight, but came out victorious as a candidate of the coalition, without the labor support. It would be a fine thing for the United States at the present time if a few of the fire eaters could place the welfare of their country ahead of their political ambition and personal aggrandizement.

In the world at large the election in England is significant of a turn from the radicalism that has been prevalent for the past few years. It also presages a swinging back to more normal conditions in other nations, as the inquiring eyes of many countries were on the British voters in this epochal ballotting.

Britian has started a swing to the right!

HOW THE LAW PROTECTS THE CRIMINAL

United States Attorney Medalie, in an address before the New York County Lawyers' Association on "The Dead Hand in the Criminal Law," has stirred up a controversy by advocating the repeal of the privilege of silence which is granted to prisoners under existing law. He claims that it is a barrier to progress and insists that it gives an unfair advantage to criminals. When a citizen makes a complaint that he has been robbed or defrauded he is often told that the evidence he offers does not justify action. He asks that the defendant be called on to answer certain questions and is amazed to learn that he need not do so if the replies are likely to incriminate him.

This, as most of us know, is a phase of the law which developed in England in the seventeenth century and probably had a reason for its being at that time. But Mr. Medalie says that it is an outworn privilege and should be relegated to the past. The professional criminal knows his rights and takes advantage of them. In urging that this be changed the United States Attorney says: "By this I mean not simply that the defendant be called as a witness during the actual trial in the case in which he is under indictment, but also that he be compelled to testify in every form of preliminary hearing and investigation. A false statement or explanation by a prospective defendant may thus be checked and either established or disproved long before a jury can be deceived by it."

We are told that this proposition was received coolly by the audience of lawyers who listened to Mr. Medalie. The fact that this is a constitutional right would make it difficult to bring about such a change, but it is certain that the innovation would be the means of puncturing many a false alibi and would save the court and jury the indignity of being imposed upon by brazen perjury. In any event, the suggestion is an important one that is worthy of calm consideration by bench and bar.

GASOLINE MOTORCAR NOT LAST WORD

An automobile propelled by air instead of gasoline was demonstrated in the streets of Los Angeles the other day. Just a few other days ago an inventor drove a buggy without a horse about the streets of Detroit. The gasoline era, ushered in by crazy men who piloted smoking, coughing horseless buggies along the thoroughfares, may be ushered out by that Los Angeles inventor who used air as fuel.

This is the electrical age, when you stop to think about it. Gasoline intruded its presence and diverted the stream of progress into two parallel channels. Gasoline has served well and justified its intrusion. It will be with us quite some time.

But there is no reason to believe that gasoline is the last word in motive power suggests the Ann Arbor Daily News. It does what electricity has not been able to do, and it has put steam to shame, but is not likely to endure forever. This air-propelled vehicle may put it to rout. Or perhaps electricity will assert, eventually, its complete dominance. One cannot prophesy in detail, but it seems reasonable to prophesy generally that one of these days something will take the place of the gasoline motor. There is oil, for example—and there is water.

Our gasoline motorcars are anything but crude. They are marvels of power and convenience and comfort. But in the next hundred years there are likely to be developments that make our modern marvels look downright clumsy and ridiculous. Motoring has had a good beginning, and that is all.

Cry, Baby! Cry!
You're a Pink Tyrant
Please Go to Sleep

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A sound splits the night. A sound like no other in all the world. A kitten mews most plaintively, a calf bawls impatiently, a little lost lamb bas—a—aas pathetically for his mother. . . . None of their cries are like this one that is small, so fierce, so compelling.

There's a tiny pink lump of flesh in that other room. . . . Hours ago his mother set him in his basket. Quietly she drew the curtains, bent softly over the gently breathing thing, tip-toed from the room, and shut the door so slowly, so delicately.

Now listen to him yell! "Laaa—Laaa—LAAAAAH!" . . . He's frightened! He's hungry! He's furious! . . . He's alone in the dark and his stomach is empty and he roars his royal commands. . . . You can almost see him in action. His face is red with fury. His mouth is open. His soft pink hands vibrate wildly above the covers. He wants something, he intends to get it—right away, RIGHT NOW!

In the other room everything goes to pieces. Grown-up men and women were talking about serious things—about Unemployment and Depression and Germany and Russia and War Debts and the General Outlook. . . . Now comes this "Laaa—Laaa!—LAAAH" . . . A mother whose children are almost grown smiles reminiscently. How well she remembers that importunate cry. How often she heard it and obeyed . . . .

As baby's mother obeys instantly. She KNOWS he will not stop until his Royal Commands are met. . . . She walks in, snaps on the light, bends over that lusty, yammering fellow. "Why so hot, Little Man?" He waves his arms, he reaches up to her, he gags, chugs, chokes, puts on the brakes, looks most pathetic and the big tears roll down his fat, pink cheeks. . . . And then he feeds—from the dear soft breast or from the hard utilitarian bottle—and for a while all is still save for his gurgling, grunting satisfaction.

And now he smiles the small soft tyrant. . . . He's had his way he's satisfied, and he smiles. Such a gay smile, such a good baby. Butter wouldn't melt in his mouth. He's had his food and the world is a wonderful place once more. He's a Benevolent Despot and all his crawling courtiers may breathe easily again. He yawns—such an engaging soft yawn—and would be placed in his downy nest once more.

Grown-ups, you are dismissed! His Majesty would sleep, your services are no longer required. Tiptoe out and shut the door, and talk about solemn affairs again. He'll call you when he needs you . . . Good night, your Highness!

DR. MAYO'S APPRECIATION

"Newspapers stand as bulwarks in the support of scientific medicine as represented by the American Medical association and by special societies which advance the standards of medicine and surgery," Dr. Charles H. Mayo, famous physician of Rochester, Minn., told his colleagues of the American College of Surgeons.

In his tribute, which specified the services newspapers have performed in making people conscious of their health and of health-preserving agencies, Dr. Mayo struck a note novel in recent years for his profession. The doctor has looked at newspapers for the most part as a distinct hindrance to the best in medicine, with no respect for scientific conservatism or even truth in the quest of a sensation.

Dr. Mayo, it seems to us, is looking at the newspapers as they are printed today. Medicine is being exploited as news now as never before. The medical meetings in New York last week were covered by the best men on the staffs of metropolitan newspapers and press services, and while their reports had to carry headlines, there was in the headlines none of the false rainbows that used to make conservative doctors grind their teeth.

In the treatment of the recent wave of infantile paralysis, the conduct of most eastern newspapers has been admirable. The story has been news from mid-August until this week, with the interest not in making scares but in tracing the epidemic and in making known the sum of the medical profession's not-too-great knowledge of its treatment.

Raising Of Democratic Fund Praised As Good Party Policy

Public Comments On Proposal Of Raskob As Necessary Preliminary To Campaign, And On Chairman's Final Contribution

Members of both major political parties have commented on the selection of a committee from the various States to raise the proposed "Democratic victory Fund" of $1,500,000, as a preliminary to undertaking the 1932 national campaign, under the advice of John J. Rascob, and with John W. Davis as chairman of the committee. The project is viewed by those who comment upon it as good party policy.

Merit in paying off indebtedness, and "getting off to a flying start next year," is seen by the ROANOKE TIMES, which also states: "That the time does not seem propitious for the raising of so large a sum may readily be conceded. But, as a matter of fact, the party has no choice but to undertake the task." The CHATTANOOGA TIMES advises: "It is of the greatest importance to the Democratic party that it pay off its debts and enter the next campaign adequately financed. Defeat may easily be the price of continued indebtedness and lack of operating funds."

"Without money," declares the LYNCHBURG NEWS, "there can be no effective organization, no effective propaganda, no rousing of the indifferent and no massing them at the polls. Money there must be, however strong the appeal, however sane the platform, however able and available the candidate, however virtuous the cause." The LOWELL EVENING LEADER offers the judgement: "While there is a strong incentive to attain the financial goal set, the task under existing conditions is not going to be an easy one. The Democratic national chairman, to whom the party is still indebted for funds used in the last campaign, cannot fairly be blamed for thinking that he has done his full share and that it is time for others to shoulder the task."

Taking a favorable view of the task, the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST holds that "the fact is that the Democrats should not find it hard to get money for their next campaign" and also remarks: "Considering that $400,000 of it will be needed to pay off the party deficit and $600,000 to 'keep the political wheels turning until the next convention,' the national Democratic appeal for a "victory fund of $1,500,000 is moderate. As Chairman Raskob, who has acted as the party 'angel' for several years and is at present the party's creditor to the extent of $325,000, truly says, the collection of the fund is not, or at least should not be, "the responsibility of any small group."

'If the fund is raised," thinks the COLUMBIA (S. C.) STATE, 'it will be done only with the contributions from many who write their checks in four and give figures." The State also argues: "It is imperative that the party pay its debts. It would be embarrassing for the party to ask the country to put it in power because it promises to solve economic problems while the economics of its own affairs are in exceedinly bad condition. Mr. Raskok said, in connection with the announcement of the organization's purpose to raise this fund, that it would be 'sought from the masses and not from the rich.' That is a very nice theory, but there are difficulties in putting it into practice."

"These are important objectives" states the BALTIMORE SUN, "but they are by no means the only ends toward which the party needs to work, nor are they even the most important ends to be considered at the present time. Party policy is of more consequence as the 1932 campaign approaches than party finance and it is incumbent on party leaders to give careful thought to its determination. The national committee can do little in this field of endeavor. The committee can organize party machinery and can adjust party finances, but the formulation of policy is the prerogative of party leaders in Congress, of the national convention and of the candidate chosen to head the ticket."

"Some good, workable reasons why the fund should be subscribed" are believed by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS to be required as a preliminary to the work of raising it. The Evening News continues: "It may be asked: What is the Democratic program and in what way is it an improvement on the Republican program? It is time the Democrats got out something to answer that query."

"Nothing but praise" avers the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL "can be accorded those who desire that the Jeffersonian organization shall square itself with its chairman. With more than 500 collectors busily at work, a substantial amount may actually be in hand before the 1932 campaign actively opens. Not that Mr. Raskob needs the money that is due him, but there is something unwholesome and undemocratic in expecting any one man, however rich, to finance the party."

"If Democrats throughout the United States" according to the FORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL, "can be prevailed upon to loosen up in the matter of voluntary contributions in anything like the manner contemplated in the new campaign fund proposal, Mr. Raskob may be blissfully relieved from the role of richly beneficient 'angel'—a role that is beginning to be definitely irksome according to all present signs. Mr. Raskob is tired of carrying so much of the load. And he serves notice that the burden of financing the party must hereafter be distributed."

"In effect," maintains the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "Chairman Raskob has 'written off' $100,000 of the debt the Democratic party owes him, through contribution of that sum to the propcsed campaign fund of $1,500,000, but along with it he gives word that it is to be the final pull at his leg. He ought to contribute liberally because of the extravagant nature of the campaign he managed, with special trains carrying the candidates over every part of the United States. While Chairman Raskob made liberal contributions to the fund of 1928, he was largely responsible for the deficit piled up, for much of the party debt was of his own making. And that is a fact in political history."

A STRANGE GENTLEMAN WRITES

A gentleman I do not know,
Some thousand miles away,
So fond of me appears to be
He writes to know if I'm the sort
Content through life to toil
Where I can make, if I'm a sport,
A fortune out of oil.

"Waste not a moment! Do it now!"
His strange epistles read,
"For if you wait, 'twill be too late,
I'll soon have all I need.
And you'll regret your lifetime through,
When fortunes I dispense
In just another month or two,
Your lack of common sense.

"Go beg and borrow all you can
And send it on to me!
Seven hundred times, your shiny dimes
Returned to you will be.
My friend, my friend, do not delay!
Oh, be no longer blind,
Send me your money right away,
Rich oil we're soon to find!"

Such friendly letters thrill me through.
'Tis very nice to find
A stranger who is all for you,
So generous and so kind.
But still the dollars that I make
To him I do not send,
Because I do not wish to take Advantage of a friend.

CALAMITY HOWLER

These are times when it is unwise to make careless statements concerning bank institutions.

There are few dishonest bankers. When men of this class go wrong it is of sufficient news value to make it necessary to print such a story.

For this reason skeptical people often comment unfavorably on banks.

These folks are not fair or honest in their statements and so some solvent institutions are brought into trouble for which there is no just cause.

A little idle talk begins it. Some institutions fail because the mass of people are so like sheep that they do not think before they follow a leader.

Because one church member is a wolf in sheep's clothing is no reason for condemning a church which may have thousands of honest and loyal communicants.

But the one backslider gets all the publicity.

The countless faithful are seldom mentioned.

The safest thing a depositor can do is to run down every little report that is heard derogatory to his or her bank and when the source is found there should be a severe penalty imposed on the destroyer of confidence in the many stable and reputable banks that operate for the people's convenience.

Dr. Williamson Thanks All Who Aided In Drive

Community Chest Chairman Praises Workers And Those Who Helped In Appeal

LIKENS PEOPLE TO WEEDS OR FLOWERS

At the conclusion of the general campaign for the Community Chest Wednesday noon, Dr. C. J. Williamson, general chairman of this year's appeal, expressed his appreciation for the courageous manner in which the workers stuck to the campaign, thanking them for their help and also gave thanks to all who had in anywise assisted in putting the campaign over.

He especially praised the workers, telling them that they had accomplished a task without any pay or remuneration whatever, that they would not have undertaken for anything.

He also thanked all who had contributed to the chest. He likened the people in New Castle to weeds and flowers. "Some people, he said are like weeds because they draw everything out of the community that they can and give nothing in return. Others are like the flowers and fruits. They draw from the community in which they live, but they also give richly in return.

Stamp Of Value.

"All people place their own stamp of value on themselves. And you people who have not only given of your own sustenance but of your time, subjecting yourselves to indignities have placed the highest stamp of value upon yourselves.

"Some people measure themselves by Dunn and Bradstreets. When you compare their gifts with their worth, they are like the weeds. I don't know what this city would do without those of you who have put yourselves into this campaign."

Dr. Williamson then expressed his appreciation of the efforts of Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, president of the chest; H. G. Horton, campaign manager, who entered into the task in a pinch, and who acquitted himself most creditably.

He thanked Mrs. Roy A. Long and her workers at the cafeteria; the New Castle News for their valuable publicity; Mrs. Margaret Frank of the Community Chest and Miss Grace Cummings of the Boy Scouts; Mrs. Rupert, the Chest secretary; "Red" Williams and Sam Lewis for leading the pep singing, Mrs. Glasser who accompanied at the piano; the various firms who aided with the parade at the start of the chest and those firms who gave supplies for the campaign.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will conduct its next regular service on Friday evening, October 30th, at 8 p. m., Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield, officiating. The topic of the discourse will be: "Have Ceremonials Any Value in Present-Day Jewish Life?" A children's service will take place Saturday morning, October 31st, at 10 a. m., and a Hebrew class for children, under the leadership of Miss Florence Safier, at 11 a. m.

The flowers decorating the pulpit this week have been offered by Mr. and Mrs. Mont Blau, in loving memory of their parents Miriam and Joseph Levine, the anniversary of whose death occurs this week.

After the services, the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple, with Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger as the host and hostess.

Teachers Give One-Eighth Of Fund For Chest

Total Of $6,258 Is Contributed From Schools Of City, This Year

Had other professions contributed as liberally, according to their means, as the school teachers of the city have done in the community chest campaign now closing, the quota would have been exceeded many times.

A review of the amount contributed from the schools of the city, the teachers, principals, janitors, clerical help, shows that $6,258 was given from this source, one-eighth of the entire community chest quota.

The record is one which the teachers may well be proud of and stamps them as outstanding citizens of the community, who can be depended upon to do their part in an emergency.

DR. PERIFANO IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Dr. A. M. Perifano, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination as a school director, learned today that friends in sufficient numbers had written his name in on the Prohibition ticket to secure him the nomination as a school director on that ticket. He stated that he was not a candidate for the office on that ticket and as he had not learned of the fact that his name was on the ballot until too late to have it removed, he wished to advise his friends and those who might be interested in his candidacy, that he was in no way interested in making the race in the general election next Tuesday.

WHEN TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

Teething time brings its troubles! For so often teeth cut through the tender gums in hot weather, when there is danger of digestive upsets anyway.

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable, is to see that waste matter is carried off promptly and regularly.

For this, there's nothing like Castoria. It is made specially for the delicate needs of babies and children. It acts so gently, you can give it to young infants to relieve colic pains. Yet it is always effective—keeps older children well regulated.

Castoria is a harmless vegetable preparation; it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

When your baby is fretful and feverish with teething or a stomach disturbance, give a cleansing dose of Castoria to make him comfortable and happy. Children like the taste of genuine Castoria—never object to taking it. Be sure you get it with the name Chas. H. Fletcher on the package.

Radio Broadcasters Are Given Warnings

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 29.—Radio broadcasters were warned by Maj. Gen. C. McK. Saltzman, federal radio commission chairman, they must improve their programs and present radio advertising in a manner not offensive to the public. He addressed the National Association of Broadcasters meeting here.

Saltzman was unable to attend the sessions. His address was read by Dr. C. B. Jolliffe, chief engineer of the radio commission.

Complaints against certain types of broadcasting and against presentation of certain advertising over the radio have become prevalent, Saltzman said.

He warned the broadcasters they must use care in presenting information concerning television.

"Television is in a highly experimental stage," he said. "As friends of radio we should all be very careful to spread no false rumors or be parties to the development of a frenzied expectation that is unwarranted."

Saltzman pointed out that many important problems would be dealt with at the International Radio conference in Madrid next year, and urged the broadcasters to formulate a unified policy which they desired the American delegation to the meeting to present.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

It's probable that in the city there are many people who fail to realize that the Swedish population of the city has been of sufficient proportions for more than 35 years to have an active congregation of the Lutheran denomination in the city, but such is the case. The Swedish Lutheran Zion church was organized February 27, 1894. The church building on Crawford avenue was erected the following year. For many years there was no resident pastor and services were held here by pastors or theological students from the nearest sister church in Youngstown, O. For many years the communicant list was small but in recent years there has been an increase in the same, which has enabled the congregation to maintain a resident pastor. Some of the earlier officers of the church were: Deacons, N. J. Carlson, Cleas Nelson and P. J. Nelson; trustees, Christopher Nelson, Bernard Svenson and B. J. Bengtson; collector, David Nelson; organist, Miss Jennie Benson. Among the early pastors, all of them residing in Youngstown and giving part of their service to the local church were A. G. Olson, Edward Stark, Axel C. Anderson and J. A. Johansson.

The contract calls for a new limestone front and complete remodeling of the interior. Two storerooms will be on the first floor and the main lounging room on the second floor. Von Hindenburg Makes Plea For Economic Fight

"Cooperation Of All German People Needed To Fight Crisis", Says President

ADVISORY COUNCIL CALLED TO SESSION

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Cooperation of all the German people to fight the economic crisis was urged today by President Paul Von Hindenburg in an address at the opening session of the Reich's new economic advisory council.

"Whatever the rest of the world does, Germany must rely mainly upon her own power and resources," the president declared. "I want to make the strongest plea for social and domestic peace."

Council Members Meet.

Members of the advisory council, including representatives of banks, railways, manufacturing industries and trade unions, met with Chancellor Heinrich Bruening and his cabinet at the presidential palace.

President Von Hindenberg presided over the meeting. He announced that frequent meetings of the council would be called to discuss financial and economic questions with the cabinet, to devise means for meeting the unemployment problem during the winter, and to consider readjustment of prices and wage levels.

Surveys Plot For Post Office

Grove City Engineer Makes Soil Test For Federal Government

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 29.—Engineer F. P. Graham completed today survey of the Pine street lot purchased by the federal government for the erection of a post office. A soil test of the lot, with dimensions of 195 front feet and a depth of 150 feet has been made. Completion of these details was wired today by Postmaster O. H. Firm to Washington. An inspector will arrive here shortly, says Firm, to check on this work. With preliminary details out of the way bids will be asked in the near future, announces the postmaster.

An appropriation of $120,000 has been made for the erection of this building.

GIVEN EXTENSION

A two weeks postponement was asked today when the action of Grove City and combined boroughs and townships against the Union Heat and Light Company was called at 9:30 a. m. before the public service commission in the City-County building at Pittsburgh.

Reduction in gas rate and abolishment of the service charge is being asked. The extension is needed to further prepare case, states M. B. Klingensmith, solicitor.

PROGRAM NEARS END

The municipal labor program will be complete within a month's time, states City Manager Norman Milner. The program has benefitted over 200 unemployed men of Grove City, who have been working on the three-fold projects.

The big item was the erection of the new unit of the sewage disposal plant costing $12,000, digging of water mains and excavations of an important character at Memorial Park sums the work.

At one time the payroll of the city numbered close to 400 men, which was a record number for Grove City.

HOMECOMING DAY

October 31st will be homecoming day at Grove City College. Each fall on a football date such an affair is arranged for.

It is said that the 1931 date will be exceptional in every way from the fact that the rival school on this day is Allegheny, with whom there has been a friendly athletic rivalry for 50 years. The student council has arranged for a dance in the evening following the game.

LEASE POST ROOMS

The American Legion are reported to have leased the basement room of the old Presbyterian church building at the corner of Main and Broad. The location will be used by the post for future meetings and as a clubroom.

The fast growth of the local post which places them among the leaders in the state, and the leader in the county, makes additional room necessary.

(International News Service)

ASHLAND, O., Oct. 29—Police today were to question Dr. I. R. Suter, former Ashland dentist and one time Ohio National Guard captain, in connection with an alleged extortion plot to obtain $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Miller by threats of kidnapping their eight-year old son, Parker.

Dr. Suter was arrested yesterday by Ashland police in Mansfield where he recently went to live. No formal charges were placed against the dentist pending today's questioning. T. W. Miller, the boy's father, is the millionaire chairman of the Faultless Rubber Company.

The governor will deliver an address on "The State's Interest in Its Children".

Former Governor John S. Fisher, during whose term the education building was erected, will be unable to attend because of a previous engagement.

General sessions will be held on Thursday and Friday, November 5 and 6. Chairmen of the various committees now at work on the ten-year plan of educational development will submit reports of their progress at Thursday's session.

A secondary school conference will convene, also, on November 5 and will continue its discussions on the succeeding day. The general theme of this group will center around the Pennsylvania study as initiated several years ago by the Carnegie Foundation for the advancement of teaching.

Scranton Church Custodian Dies From Gun Wounds

Woman Alleged Slayer, Is In Hospital In Critical Condition Today

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 29.—John Redmond, 59, custodian of the fashionable Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church here, died at Scranton state hospital today of bullet wounds inflicted by Mrs. Amelia Jones, 50, West Scranton, who turned the gun on herself after a quarrel between the couple in the basement of the church. He was married and the father of several children.

Mrs. Jones, with two bullet wounds in the left breast, was reported in a critical condition at the hospital today. Should she recover, police said, a charge of murder will be placed against her.

Police quoted Mrs. Jones as admitting she went to the church basement armed with the pistol. When she drew the weapon, police said, Redmond grappled with her and in the struggle the gun was discharged, wounding the woman.

Redmond attempted to flee, according to police, and Mrs. Jones fired two shots. One entered his chest and the other his abdomen. Then, police say, the woman turned the gun on herself and deliberately sent another bullet into her left breast.

Headquarters Of Community Chest Are Moved Today

Special Headquarters In Y. W. C. A. Building Are Closed By Workers

Headquarters of the Community Chest, which were maintained in a room in the Y. W. C. A. Building, contributed for that purpose, have been moved to the Chamber of Commerce rooms, following the close of the general campaign.

Money is still being received from contributors, it was stated today by Campaign Manager H. G. Horton, and those who have not contributed may send their contributions to the Chest at the Chamber of Commerce office or to the secretary Mrs. Winifred Rupert, at the Union Trust Company.

Several contributions were brought in this morning and indications point to belated subscriptions bringing the chest total to the quota established at the ouset of the campaign. This amount is actually needed to carry out the work this year, all organizations having made as many sacrifices as possible this year in order that the amount asked for would be as small as possible.

Appeal Filed In Halsopfel Case

Defendants Not Satisfied With Award Made By Workmen's Compensation Board

In the case of John and Agusta Halsopfel against the Great Lakes Stages and the Century Indemnity Company, an appeal has been filed at the prothonotary's office, from a decision of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

The case was before the compensation board on a claim of the plaintiffs for compensation for the death of their son who was injured while in the employ of the Great Lakes Stages Company. Testimony at the hearing was to the effect that the son was contributing to the support of his parents.

The compensation board awarded $60 for the young man from the date of his injuries until the time of his death, and after his death $5 per week for a period of 296 weeks, or $1480.

Exceptions are taken to this award by the indemnity company on the grounds that it was not clearly shown that the young man was assisting to support his parents. It is asked that the case be tried in the Lawrence county courts.

Legion Of Honor Makes Offer To Register Graves

Ex-Service Men Of New Castle Volunteer Services To County

ARE READY TO START TASK IMMEDIATELY

Members of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory, composed of ex-service men of all wars, at their meeting in the Cathedral last evening voted to take over the work of registering and marking the graves of ex-service men in the various cemeteries of the county.

The matter was taken up as a civic project. It has been found by the veterans during their work of decorating the graves of ex-service men prior to Memorial Day, that many markers are taken from the graves during the period from one Memorial Day to another, and they have a difficult time in locating the graves again.

With a permanent marker on the grave, this would eliminate a lot of trouble. In view of the fact that the ex-service men have been doing the work of decorating the graves for each Memorial Day, they feel that it would not be such a difficult task to locate the graves that are unmarked along with those which are recorded, so that a permanent record of them might be obtained for the future.

They will communicate with the county commissioners at once offering their services free of charge for this task and will be ready to start the job as soon as desired.

The entertainment committee announced that plans are now under way for a vaudeville show to be held sometime in the near future, admission to which will be a quantity of foodstuffs, which will be placed in storage and used only for relief work among members of the Masonic fraternity.

Plans were also made to reorganize the bugle and drum corps, Lewis Conn having been named chairman of the committee to arrange this.

NAN BRITTON SUES FOR DAMAGES

Hearing has begun in federal court in Toledo, O., in a libel suit for $50,000 brought against a Marion, O., hotel keeper by Nan Britton, author of "The President's Daughter." Miss Britton is seeking that amount from C. A. Klunk, who wrote "The Answer to the President's Daughter," and who advertised and sold the book in his hotel. She maintains her reputation has been damaged to that extent. Miss Britton is shown here at Toledo at the opening of the trial with her daughter, whom she named Elizabeth Ann Britton Harding, now 12 years old.

Character Of Woman Author Is Attacked

Additional Testimony Heard In Toledo Court In Nan Britton's Libel Suit

Woman Author Of "The President's Daughter" Is Bitterly Assailed

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 29.—Additional testimony attacking the character and reputation of Nan Britton was expected to be presented by the defense in federal court here today at the third day's sessions of the trial of Miss Britton's $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Klunk, Marion, O., hotel keeper.

Miss Britton, author of "The President's Daughter," charges Klunk distributed "The Answer to the President's Daughter," a book in which she claims she was defamed.

Over the strenuous objections of William F. Marsteller, counsel for the plaintiff, defense attorneys spent part of the afternoon session producing eight Marion residents to testify against Miss Britton's reputation.

Passages Read

Two passages from "The Answer" were read into court records over Marsteller's objections. One referred to the divorce suit now pending in New York in which Nan Britton co-respondent by Patricia M. Whiteman in her suit against her husband, Richard M. Whiteman. The woman charged her husband was the author of "The President's Daughter."

The other passage was concerned with the married life of the late President Harding. Reading of the passage marked the first introduction of President Harding's name into the testimony of the trial.

Testimony was resumed in the hearing yesterday afternoon after attorneys spent the morning discussing whether to continue the case after Judge John M. Killits reversed his own previous ruling that the burden of proof was on the defense and ordered the plaintiff to furnish proof of the publication of "The Answer."

Testimony Resumed

Marsteller and Grant Mouser, Sr., counsel for the defense ,agreed to continue with the hearing and the taking of defense testimony was resumed.

Two of the witnesses were former schoolmates of the plaintiff. They were Ellen Lucille Stoll, and Mrs. Helen Grigsby. Miss Britton and Mrs. Grigsby were at one time taught by Daisy Harding, sister of President Harding.

Other witnesses were Mrs. Mildred Christian Roberts, Mrs. Mary Cathine Hane, William R. Martin, Mrs. Esther Geran, and Miss Edna Dutton, society editor of the Marion Star.

By order of the court, Miss Britton's daughter, Elizabeth Ann was ejected from the courtroom yesterday because of the type of testimony that was likely to develop.

Mrs. Eleanor Savage, 30, of Mt. Lebanon, according to County Detective William B. Dinsmore, was said to have furnished the nine young women entertainers.

Placed In Jail

When state police entered, the two boxing girls fled to a small room where Mrs. Savage and the other entertainers were found. All were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. W. Weigman, of Avella.

According to Dinsmore, Ronyak pleaded guilty to staging an immoral performance and was committed to jail in default of bail. Mrs. Savage and her "girls" were committed to jail after they pleaded guilty, according to Dinsmore, to similar charges. The hearing was brief, only long enough for Dinsmore and a few of the raiders to tell Weigman what they saw at the dance hall.

County Detective Frank A. Creps, State policeman Redna and Sanute of the Washington barracks, Constable George Williams of Crosscreek township and Constable Albert Jukes of Hopewell township participated in the raid.

The entertainers, arraigned before Justice Weigman, gave their names as: Sally Rice, 22, Northside, Pittsburgh; Elizabeth Baker, 22, Pittsburgh; Helen and Norma Bennett, 17 and 19 respectively, of Wilkinsburg; Ina King, 18, East End, Pittsburgh; Bertha Muller, 21, Yetta Gould, 24, and Anna Martin, 26, all of the Northside, and Mary Bloom, 20, of McKeesport.

It won't be long now before deer hunters will begin to kill each other.—The Janesville Daily Gazette.

Three Bandits Are Arrested

Pittsburgh Police Announce Arrest Of Three Holdup Men—One Tries Suicide

DRY CLEANING SHOP HELD UP

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29. — Police today reported the arrest of three men who, they say, have admitted staging the holdup on a dry-cleaning plant on the Northside last Tuesday morning in which about $500 was stolen after the manager, a girl clerk, and a customer were lashed together with ropes.

One of the three prisoners, Frank Puglin, 30, was said by police to be the sweetheart of Anna Marshall, 21, the clerk. Both Puglin and the girl burst into tears when they faced each other in the police station.

Puglin, according to police, remained outside in an automobile while John Fox, 27, a Mexican, and George Schultz, 38, held up the establishment.

Puglin attempted to commit suicide in his cell at the police station, officers said. He was found fastening a tie to the bars above his head.

Chance Is Given To Work Out Fines

Business Conditions Occasionally Necessitate This Procedure

Times change and so do conditions. There was a time in the police department operations here, that the offender, had but one or two alternatives of paying the penalty, when he was found guilty. One was either to pay cash in the matter of fines or spend so many days in jail.

Then a few years ago came the proposition, especially in the case of habitual offenders, of making them work out their fines at the police station.

Not the latest wrinkle in the handling the situation of a person, who has been fined, when it has been determined that the person fined has a good reputation for paying bills and is just unfortunate at the present time in not working, to permit them to work out their fine. And an effort is made to have the work something of benefit to the community as well as the man, who pays his fine in that manner.

APPLE EATING COW ACQUIRES A "JAG"

CORRY, Pa., Oct. 29—Cows can go on a spree, according to John B. Patterson. He found two of them staggering about the farm. Thinking they had been poisoned, he called a veterinarian. The latter looked the situation over, surveyed the pasture field, found the cows had dulged too heavily in apple eating over the week-end and had contracted an old-fashioned "cider jag."

Hallowe'en Pranks Will No Longer Be Tolerated By Police

This Applies Especially To Those Tricks, Which Endanger Lives

Hallowe'en pranks being perpetrated in the city at the present time have taken such a turn and are in many instances endangering human life, that Chief of Police C. C. Horner announced this morning, that they must cease, or the perpetrators, whenever caught would be dealt with most severely.

Among the dangerous pranks being practiced at the present time, is the pulling off the trolley poles of the street cars, and the placing of grease on the car tracks, with the result that it is being found difficult to operate the street cars in the hill districts.

Near the point that the street cars go down grade to the end of Highland avenue, heavy oil and grease was poured on the tracks, making it impossible for the cars to go to the end of the line. If they had have gone, there is the possibility of the cars leaving the track and running amuck. The condition was discovered before any damage could be done.

The police plan to make every effort to capture the perpetrators of pranks of this kind and promise that they will be severely punished when caught.

PITTSBURGH WOMAN ROBBED OF GEMS

(International News Service)

Life carefully planned

ASK any of the boys who've made good and they'll tell you it didn't just happen by a lucky break. Their success was the result of careful planning. Hard work. Night school, perhaps. And above all, always attending strictly to this important matter of health.

"I had no time for outdoor exercise," is the story you'll hear. "I couldn't afford one of those gymnasium courses. But I figured I could keep myself in good shape by taking Nujol. I've taken it ever since. And it's helped as much as anything to keep me fit and on the job every day."

There's no easier way to keep in first rate condition than by taking Nujol. Nujol is not a medicine. It's just a pure, natural substance that helps your system to function as Nature meant it to under all conditions. Normally. Regularly. Easily.

It not only keeps an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them), but aids in their removal. Nujol can't possibly upset or disagree with you, because it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. It is simply a pure, natural substance. Perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York City.

Start Nujol today. Give it a fair try—for the next three months, anyway. By the end of that time—even before then perhaps—see if you don't feel much more all round fit.

You can buy Nujol at all drug stores for a small sum. Worth trying, isn't it? Nujol is sold in sealed packages only. Stop and buy a bottle on your way home tonight.

Many Chinese In Major Battle Are Reported Killed

Report 180 Chinese And Three Japs Killed In Sharp Fighting

WOUNDED LIST PLACED AT 200

By EDWARD HUNTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1931, by International News Service

MUKDEN, Oct. 29.—Two major battles between Chinese irregulars and Japanese troops about 150 miles northwest of Mukden resulted today in the death of 189 Chinese and at least 3 Japanese, including one officer.

The number of the Chinese wounded was set by Japanese headquarters here at about 200. No figures were given out on the number of Japanese wounded.

Sharp Fighting

Sharp, all-day fighting between four companies of Japanese infantry, supported by an artillery battery, and between 1,300 and 1,500 Chinese was carried on in an area twenty miles square, centering around Chenchiatun on the Ssupingkai-Taonan Railway. The two major engagements took place some seven miles apart.

The Japanese forces engaged in the fighting included the punitive expedition sent out from Chengiatun to carry on an offensive against harassing bandits and the re-inforcements sent to its aid when it was ambushed.

The newly formed Chinese "Northeast Self-Defense Corps" fought side by side with the Chinese irregulars in some of the most sanguinary exchanges.

Bar Young Girl From Courtroom

Daughter Of Nan Britten Barred As Libel Suit Is Tried In Court At Toledo

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 29.—Elizabeth Ann, daughter of Nan Britton, plaintiff in the $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Klunk, Marion, O., hotel keeper, was barred from the federal courtroom by Judge John M. Killits when the trial was resumed Wednesday.

In having the 13-year-old girl removed from the courtroom, Judge Killits pointed out to the attorneys the impropriety of having the child with her mother due to the character of the testimony likely to develop, and particularly to the reading of the extracts from the two books involved in the case.

Miss Britton, author of "The President's Daughter," was accompanied to the courtroom Tuesday, the first day of the trial, by her daughter and sat with her during the session.

Blood Count And Results Described

Doctor Dispels Mystery Of Phase Of Medical Science

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Much of the mystery which seems to exist in patients' minds concerning the pronouncements of their physicians would probably be dispelled if they understood exactly how the results were obtained.

Take ,for instance, the question of blood counting. The physician has his laboratory assistant stick your finger or your ear with a needle and obtain a drop of blood. This is sucked up into peculiar looking tube, which the assistant carries into the laboratory, and in the course of time the physician says: "Your red cells are four million and your white cells five thousand."

What does this mean? It helps some that the doctor says that is "about normal." But you sometimes wonder how accurate such statements can be, how much dependence can be put on them. What maneuvers does the assistant go through to obtain this knowledge?

The procedure is quite simple and extremely accurate. The principle depends on the fact that a drop of undiluted blood is so crowded with cells that it would be impossible to count them under the microscope. The method then is to dilute (or separate) the cells until you can count them and then multiply by the number of times you have diluted them to get the actual number of cells in an actual drop.

The little tubes into which the blood is sucked for making this test are very accurately calibrated so that an extremely minute amount of blood can be measured off. After the blood is drawn up into the tube, it is diluted very accurately with another solution. As there are two kinds of blood cells—the red and the white—two different solutions are used to dilute the two different blood specimens obtained.

The first solution used for counting the red cells is simply salt solution. A one to two hundred dilution is usually made. Then a small drop of the diluted blood is put on a microscopic slide. This slide is especially made for the purpose and is the most delicate part of the apparatus. It is ruled off in squares so small that the lines cannot be seen with the naked eye, but very evenly and exactly just the same. When placed on this slide the blood cells are enclosed in a chamber of definite though microscopic dimensions, and the individual cells are distinct and far apart and can be counted very readily under the microscope.

By counting the blood of many thousand—indeed many million—human beings in this way, it has been found that the number of red blood cells in health is remarkably constant. It varies slightly from infancy to old age and between men and women. But in general there are about five million per cubic millimeter. If there is any wide variation from this standard it means some kind of disease.

The solution used for diluting the white cells is acetic acid, the virtue of which, for this purpose, is that it dissolves all the red cells, leaving only the white. As the red cells are far more numerous than the white, their presence would entirely obscure the latter, so the advantages of a solution which will dissolve them is obvious. The same general methods are followed in counting the white cells after dilution as in counting the red.

Just as by counting many thousands of healthy people, the constant number of red cells was found, in the same way the number of white cells has been found very regularly to be five thousand per unit of one common measurement. Any great deviation from that means some abnormality in the body.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough due to a cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

WHAT A SWELL LOT OF SMOKES FOR A DIME!

NO WONDER TARGET'S GONE OVER WITH A BANG!

Thousands are rolling their own cigarettes—SEEING what they smoke—and saving half a buck a week!

"WHAT'S the sense of paying big money for a package of cigarettes when you can roll 30 or 40 cigarettes with Target for just one thin little dime?

"A lot of men asked themselves that question and here's the answer! This cigarette tobacco is a blend of fine Virginia, Burley, and Turkish. It is manufactured exactly the same as ready-mades up to the time it is rolled into the cigarette paper. And that's where you come in—you roll 'em and save the difference.

"Ask your tobacco dealer today for Target. Here is what you'll get: A big package of darn fine tobacco wrapped in moistureproof Cellophane, and two packs of gummed cigarette papers. And if you like your 'fags' as perfect as factory-mades, trade six bits for a Target Roller and it'll pay for itself in no time. From then on, boy, you're rolling 'em on velvet! All this for one little dime; 30 to 40 cigarettes easy."

AND GET THIS!

The United States Government tax on 20 cigarettes amounts to 6c. On 20 cigarettes you roll from Target Tobacco the tax is just about 1c. No wonder you get such value for a dime!

ROLL 'EM BETTER THAN READY-MADES!

Your dealer will demonstrate this Target Roller. It is the most practical device for rolling perfect cigarettes. It is guaranteed by the makers to work to your satisfaction.

"clear road ahead!"

It's great to feel that way . . .
and you do . . . when the blood has the "feel" of enough rich red cells

Why you should be interested in your Blood Count

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, sallow complexion, pimples and boils.

REGARDLESS of age—be fortified with plenty of "red blood." That s-p-e-l-l-s happiness.

So frequently work, worry, colds and sickness reduce the red-cell count in the blood . . . then our spirits go down as the blood cells are lowered.

The process may be so gradual that we wonder "what is the matter."

It is well to give thought to those invisible—yet precious red-blood-cells—the "ships," if you please, that "sail" in the blood, carrying nourishment to all parts of the body.

"That tired feeling" may be a warning . . . so are pimples, boils and paleness.

Why not take steps to overcome this trouble? A general run-down condition means a lack of normal resistance to infection and disease. A lagging appetite often leads to underweight and ill health.

You cannot be low in strength and be happy—let's be happy.

For generations S.S.S. as a tonic has been helping people gain New Strength, better health and happiness. Its successful record of over 100 years in restoring strength and vitality to the blood surely warrants your giving it a good trial.

Why not start taking S.S.S. today?—the larger size represents a price saving.

Hanlon Suggests Route To Turtle Creek Game

For the convenience of the New Castle football fans who will drive to Turtle Creek on Saturday, B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club has arranged a route which he believes to be the freest from traffic congestion and also free of detours.

Arrangements have been made to have two State Highway Patrolmen lead the caravan on Saturday and all motorists are asked to be at the Castleton Hotel between ten and ten thirty in the morning. The caravan will move out at ten thirty, arriving in Turtle Creek somewhere between twelve thirty and one o'clock.

The route below and the instructions are rather important to motorists and those intending to drive are asked to save this article for reference on Saturday.

U. S. No. 422, (Leaving New Castle via Butler avenue), New Castle to Portersville.

U. S. No. 19 Portersville to Zelienople and Warrendale. At Warrendale turn left on the Ambridge and Tarentum road and follow to the Babcock Boulevard. Turn right on the Babcock Boulevard to Wildwood. At Wildwood turn left on the Wildwood Road to Talley-Cavey, on St. Route No. 8. Turn right.

St. No. 8 Talley-Cavey to Etna. Turn left, at traffic light.

St. No. 28 Etna to Sharpsburg bridge. Cross Sharpsburg bridge. Turn left and follow Washington Boulevard to Fifth and Penn avenue. Turn left on Penn avenue and follow U. S. No. 30 to Wilkinsburg, East Pittsburgh and Turtle Creek.

Alternate Route

Those desiring to use alternate route should avoid Millvale, due to construction on the Babcock Blvd., leading into Millvale.

Alternate Route:—

U. S. No. 422 New Castle to Portersville.

U. S. No. 19 Portersville to Zelienople and into Pittsburgh, crossing the Manchester Bridge and turn left on U. S. No. 30.

U. S. No. 30 Follow to Wilkinsburg and Turtle Creek. (Via Boulevard of The Allies.)

Parking space has been reserved for the New Castle motorists on the high school ground. These grounds will be officially manned and officered to care for the visitors in the most efficient manner.

It will be necessary to walk approximately one-quarter of a mile from the school to the stadium. Do not count on parking near the stadium as there is positively no space for parking. The road is narrow and the only available spot between the hill and the road is occupied by the stadium.

There will be patrolmen to escort the caravan to Turtle Creek and will be escorted through Pittsburgh by additional policemen. The A. A. A. towing car will also accompany this caravan so that if any trouble arises it may be taken care of promptly.

Parade Committee Asks People To Keep On Sidewalk

Wants Mummers To Get A Chance To Do Their Stuff This Evening

Committee in charge of the mummers' parade to be held this evening in the South Side district, have issued a request to the general public that those witnessing the parade stay on the sidewalks along the line of march. The request is made for the reason that it is desired to give the mummers every possible chance to show their costumes, and the only way that it can be done is by the onlookers to refrain from getting into the street and obstructing the line of march and interfering with the participants in the parade.

deny the "confessions" of Fred Williams, 20-year-old El Paso chemist, that he aided her in the murders.

Williams' account was being checked by investigators while the youth was held in jail as a material witness. When he was taken to the hospital ward to confront Mrs. Judd the woman looked at him and said:

"I can't say anything about my case on instructions from my lawyers."

Williams was then asked if he recognized Mrs. Judd.

"I won't talk if she won't," he replied.

Mrs. Judd is in the hospital ward recovering from a bullet wound she contends was inflicted during the fatal battle between herself and her victims.

Young William told police that he witnessed the battle in the Leroi-Samuelson cottage in Phoenix and that he shot Mrs. Leroi when the woman attacked him. He then helped Mrs. Judd pack the bodies into the trunks and dispose of physical signs of the killings, according to his story. Investigators declared Williams' narrative contained numerous discrepancies.

Phoenix, Ariz, Oct. 29.—Astounding new secrets of the intimate diary of Agnes Ann Leroi, "trunk murder" victim, leaked out from two sources today and rocked Phoenix official and social circles with threatened exposures of "playboys" who helped Miss Leroi and her chum, Hedwig Samuelson, "enjoy life."

Miss Leroi's diary, replete with word pictures of her own emotions and said also to reveal names of social and business leaders, has been surpressed, according to investigators, because of its damaging contents.

Navy League Makes Criticism Of Hoover

Charges On Navy Program Are Made By W. H. Gardiner, Of League

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Hoover today stood charged with exhibiting an "abysmal ignorance of why navies are maintained and how they are maintained, and of how they are used to accomplish their mission."

The charge was made in a pamphlet issued by the Navy league over the signature of William Howard Gardiner, president of the organization of civilians representing sentiment for powerful armament.

"It has been necessary to say what has been said," the statement declared after regretting the expression, "if we are to have a real appreciation of the impelling motives back of President Hoover's efforts, at every turn, to restrict, to reduce, to starve the U. S. navy—under the present plea of budget limitation on which we may have further cause to comment."

Unrevealed Agreements

Mr. Hoover's wartime efforts to immunize sea-borne food supplies were cited as portraying his "abysmal ignorance".

The president's conversations with Premier MacDonald of Great Britain in 1929, the Navy league charged, "reached agreements that have never officially been divulged in their entirety."

"This suggests why the administration refused relations to see the full record of its negotiations and possible commitments preparatory to the London Naval conference of 1930," it added.

Proposal for a naval building holiday preparatory to the League of Nations disarmament conference of 1932, as made by Dino Grandi, foreign minister of Italy, actually was inspired by the Washington administration, it was suggested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Wide-eyed wanderings:

Along Fifth avenue on a Sunday morning. . . Hope Williams, the actress, sitting with another beauteous babe in the back of the longest, lowest, leanest limousine I have ever seen.

The curious statuettes atop the traffic signals. . . A symbolic gentleman clad in a couple of scarves and what appears to be a doughboy cap, holding out something or other in one hand. Must telephone Police Commissioner Mulrooney to find out what they are all about.

"For rent—loft, suitable for photographic studio or postage stamps for collections." And in Lexington avenue, later, peering into the several stamp stores which are as ornate and prosperous-appearing as jewelers. . . Plate-glass counters cover thousands of specimens. . . Errors at $200 each. . . Rare watermarks at $500 per sheet. . . The gentlemen who sit gravely fingering stamp tongs over albums. . . I have never seen a fat stamp collector although many philatelists have whiskers. . . Small boys clattering into the stores on roller skates. . . Memory: My first published work was in a collector's magazine.

WOODEN SHIPS—IRON MEN

The lovers of sail have had what may be their last impressive fling at the steam and steel efficiency of modern ships. Men like Captain Tom Sheridan, a governor of the New York Athletic association. Captain Felix Reisenberg the writer and Commander John S. Baylis, chief of staff of the United States coast guard destroyer division, want sailing ships back as training units.

Specifically, they want the New York Nautical school to reconsider the substitution of the Empire State a steamship, for the Newport, a sailing craft as training ship.

Captain Sheridan is violent in his protest. He says: "There is nothing in the world like a sail to instill into a boy the ill to do the things that must be done at sea if a man is to succeed. Nothing can produce in him the sea zest, the feeling for the sea, that sails can."

"Send the boys out to unchartered seas, make them live dangerously," says Captain Sheridan.

For the comfort of modern liners, Captain Sheridan had a contemptuous sniff. "A steamer is no ship, anyway!"

HOP, SKIP AND JUMP

A firm of sports apparel dealers in Madison avenue is tagged Hill and Dale. . . A young woman who has just begun to illustrate newspaper serials is named Vera Clere . . . But don't get me started with stuff like that.

My corner newsdealer tells me that the more lurid and sexy magazines are thumbed to pieces by passersby who do not buy, while nobody ever picks up the staid and expensive publications without making a purchase.

Overheard in the swankest jewelry store of them all: "Sure, it's expensive getting a $10 pen engraved with my full name, but there are people these days who'd change their initials for ten bucks."

The most thrilling dollar show in New York remains the view from the Empire State tower.

BROADWAY METEORS

The history of Broadway is full of theatrical meteors who rose and fell in unpredictable courses. Some of them didn't fall at all—which is news. There was Oscar Hammerstein, who made a fortune in vaudeville only to return to grand opera and grow weary of that.

Charles Frohman lost money in musicals, but profited hugely out of the straight drama. Jesse Lasky was a wonder at turning out vaudeville smashes, but when he tried a de luxe cabaret the venture flopped spectacularly. In motion pictures he recouped with a bang as everyone knows.

And Franchon and Marco, the wealthiest producers in the show business, were told they were crazy by everyone who knew the game when they wanted to take their nest egg from two successful acts and invest in the 'vaudeville unit' field.

PRISONER GENEROUSLY "WAIVES THE HEARIN' "

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—Claud Williams, colored, was arrested and taken before U. S. Commissioner Lee R. Smith when raiders uncovered a cache of whisky on his property.

"What do you plead?" Smith asked.

"I pleads guilty and waives the hearin'," Williams said.

"What do you mean, waive the hearing?" asked Smith.

"I means I don't want to hear no mo' about it."

Woman Diplomat

It has been said that women are more diplomatic than men, but it remained for Senora Delia Robbes de Andreve (above), wife of the Panamanian Minister to Cuba, to break all Latin-American diplomatic precedents and take the post of charge d'affaires to the legation in Havana. Senora de Andreve is the first woman in Latin America to assume such a post.

Into Retirement

Owing to the illness of his wife, now in Paris, Dwight W. Davis, Governor-General of the Philippines, has placed his resignation at the disposal of President Hoover. Mr. Davis will leave Manila about Nov. 19 for Washington, where he will formally request the President to relieve him of his duties.

Vacationing

Mme. Lucrezia Bori, world famous singer, was snapped in this charming outfit at Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., where she has joined the elite for a Fall sojourn. Evidently it is balmy enough there to go without a coat, which affords a glimpse of Mme. Bori's Autumnal costume.

Alfonso has given his son all rights to the Spanish throne. Boy, polish up that medal for zero in generosity.

The Parent Problem
by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Exposing The Children To Good Music Is Duty Of Parents—Dr. Myers

It's Never Too Late To Acquire Taste For And Knowledge Of Classics, Psychologist Discovers

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College Western Reserve University

Some of us parents are woefully lacking in regard to good music. Let your humble servant here confess that he might be classed almost as illiterate in music. Musical symbols I can rarely read at all, and I cannot play a single instrument. Now I know how you who are musically educated pity me. Thank you for your feelings in my behalf. I need your pity. Anyone in my predictament surely does. Even though one may not know enough to realize what it is one does not know, I do have some kind of naive awareness of a painful lack in my education. Fervently I hope and pray that my children will not have to come to such grief.

For the encouragement, however, of my many brother illiterates, I desire to confess also that I am learning even now. Really I have been growing in ability to enjoy good music. It seems to come by way of listening to worthwhile productions, particularly in the company of those who have intelligent enjoyment of it. If I were not so lazy my enjoyment would be much more rapid.

It pains me most to confess that for a number of years I not only failed to enjoy good music, but entertained a sneaking satisfaction in my ignorance, even a slight contempt for those who were demonstative in their enthusiasm about the masterpieces. This despicable trait must have reached its height about the time I was "doctored (got my Ph. D. degree), a time when ignorance concerning anything but a few technicalities usually is bliss.

Happy am I now to report improvement not only in respect to personal enjoyment of music but in regard to enthusiastic music lovers. I am learning to experience a childlike admiration for them. Surely I do envy them.

For two hours each week I sit at the feet of an esteemed colleague in the university where I teach, who has been so kind as to allow me to register in his course in music appreciation. If I don't watch out this very capable and inspiring teacher will have me robbing my family by buying tickets for symphony orchestra programs, since such music is my favorite.

Just now symphony programs are beginning in many large centers of population. Nearly every large city has its symphony orchestra of which its music lovers are proud. All its parents ought to be. Such groups of artists are occasionally attracted to the smaller cities for one or a series of concerts, brought within the reach of the majority of those who really desire to hear good music and have their children share in such cultural enjoyments.

Besides, persons everywhere can, now and then, hear a symphony concert by radio. When we and our children do hear such music on the air we are made the more eager to see and hear the performances. Something about the action of the artists, about the atmosphere they create, particularly in a symphony, which we can get only by being able to see the players as we hear the music.

For parents of moderate circumstances, tickets to a symphony orchestra are not investments in luxury, especially if they take their children with them, but a necessity in a broad cultural education. We parents are grateful for the oportunities which many symphony orchestra have extended to public school children. In some cities free tickets are provided them. Furthermore, our public schools, through their excellent music programs, are cultivating high grade musical enjoyment in children. The rapid development of the school orchestra has been one of the rarest achievements of modern public education.

EARTH CAUSED BY COLLISION

Said That Passing Star Pulled Material Off The Sun

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—A terrific collision between the sun and a passing star was advanced tonight as the cause of the birth of the earth and other planets by Professor Willem De Sitter, noted Dutch astronomer.

The passing star, he said, pulled material off the sun, and the larger fragments became the planets. The museum of the star, transmitted by the collision, started the sun and planets all whirling in the same direction through space.

Such a collision, he continued, is the only satisfactory way of explaining why the sun and all the planets revelve in the same direction, and why their orbits are almost circular and on almost the same plane or level. He spoke before the Washington Academy of Sciences and the Society of Sigma XI.

The satellites of the planets—such as the moon—were born in similar fashion, he said. They were pulled off from the planets by the sun's attraction, as the planets were drawn from the sun.

After the star pulled a huge filament of matter out from the sun, following an elliptical path, like a flattened circle. Gradually, however their orbits became more like a true circle, due to friction from the gaseous material out in space. This friction now has "rounded out" the planets' orbits until they are almost perfect circles.

Urges Hospitals Decrease Number Of Young Nurses

Ohio State Nurse Head Urges Hospitals To Limit Students —Too Many Nurses

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—An appeal to hospitals to aid in decreasing lack of employment for private duty nurses was issued here Wednesday by Anna C. Gladwin, of Akron, president of the Ohio State Nurses Association, in an address to the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association convention here.

Miss Gladwin declared hospital training schools should limit the number of students as a step toward reducing the present oversupply of nurses.

Election results were announced at today's session of the convention. Officers named were Eleanor Faunce, Lock Haven, Jessie J. Turnbull, Pittsburgh, and Susan Francis, Philadelphia, vice-presidents; Jean Coucher, Bethlehem, Esther Tinsley, Pittsburgh, Edith Yingst, Harrisburg, Rose Meyers, Johnstown, Jennie Manley, Pittsburgh, Elizabeth Hartleb, Erie and Elsie Shaw, Williamsport, directors.

Gertrude Heatley, Pittsburgh, was elected president of the association at last night's session.

Hearse Driver Blows Wife's Brains Out, Then Shoots Himself

(International News Service)

NILES, Ill. Oct. 29.—Frank Names, 47, a hearse driver, blew his wife's brains out with a pistol Wednesday and then shot and killed himself, according to police.

Their bodies were found in the bedroom of their bungalow in a suburb. The wife, Harriet, 42, apparently had been shot in bed and dropped dead while attempting to crawl from the bedroom. The pajama clad body of her husband was on the floor beside her.

Prothonotary To Receive Returns

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell received notice from Harrisburg this morning that election returns for township and borough offices are to be made to the prothonotary, instead of the Clerk of Courts, as has been the custom in the past. This does not make any difference so far as Mr. Campbell's work is concerned, as he holds both offices. However, there are counties where the offices of prothonotary and Clerk of Courts, are separate, and it is presumed the new ruling will be observed in them.

Host Of Diggers May Soon Reduce Coal Strip Supply

County Poor Director M. B. Hogue declared Wednesday that diggers at the county operated coal strip in the Croton district will exhaust the supply within a month or so if the present number continues to visit the field daily.

Since the ground was reopened for use last September a total of 6,642 tons have been removed.

Figures show that 3,528 tons dug were hauled away at the county's expense, while 3,114 tons were transported by those who dug it. A total of 583 tons was dug by the men at the field and immediately offered to the county poor office for general relief. So far 322 tons of that amount have been distributed to the needy.

Demand Is Heavy

Mr. Hogue paid a visit to the coal field this week to learn from Harry Trover, foreman in charge, that 500 to 600 men have been out to dig each day. Last week a total of 1,500 tons were mined.

"It may be two months before the coal is entirely exhausted," said Director Hogue, "but at the rate the work is going along it won't be so very long." During the permit period yesterday permits were issued to 50 more men.

The ground, donated by the New Castle Mining & Clay Products Company and the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, has provided ton upon ton of heater fuel for homes in Lawrence county last winter and this fall.

WRITING SPOUSE IS TOO CRUEL

RENO, Nev., Oct. 29.—George William Hill, the movie director, ambled into Washoe county court house today and said he wanted a divorce because his scenario-writing spouse, Frances Marion, had been cruel to him.

In his petition Hill said that he and the gifted Miss Marion were married in Phoenix, Ariz., on January 18, last year.

Miss Marion, who wrote the scenario of such movie successes as "The Big House," and "The Secret Six," has a reputation for sharp repartee. One day a Hollywood policeman bawled her out and asked if she had "any brains."

"I made $150,000 with my brains last year," she retorted. "How much did you get for yours?"

KILL 67 RATTLERS IN AN HOUR'S TIME

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 29.—Three young men recently killed 67 rattlesnakes within an hour in the hills four miles north of Vaughn near here.

Many of the snakes were from five to six feet in length and some of them were ten years old. The snake hunters said there were probably 500 of the reptiles in a small area. Most of them were found in rabbit holes.

It was believed that the snakes were preparing to "hole-up" for the winter when they were found by the men.

JERSEY CALF GIVES MILK

(International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 29.—Mother nature gets tired of doing the same thing time after time and so, she often produces something as a sort of a joke. This particular joke is a jersey calf, less than four weeks old, born here recently, that gives milk. The calf, weighing about 60 pounds, is in every other way normal and has been giving milk since it was born. It is owned by Ben Kernen a cattle buyer here.

2 CUBAN GAMES KILLED

HAVANA, Oct. 29.—Bolita and charada, two gambling games dear to the Cuban heart, are out of existence now for the first time in decades, the government having smashed the ring that operated them in every town and village grocery bar in the island. Two games which every Cuban played at some time for as little as a penny and as much as a dollar are said to have netted the operators more than $6,000,000 a year in profits. This is more than twice the amount the government makes from the lottery whose revenue was threatened by the bolita and charada games. So serious was the outlook for the lottery that the government recently cut prices and prizes in half.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA
Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.
Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

How To Get Relief From Catarrh

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises, go to New Castle Drug, Eckerd's or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength); take this home, add to it ¾ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the musous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.

Trinity Parish Supper Success

Rev. Hiram R. Bennett, Speaker Evening, Gives Fine Address

Parish dinner held last evening in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church was an outstanding success, being one of the best attended and most successful of such events ever held.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Hiram R. Bennett, rector of Christ church, Williamsport, Pa., and an associate secretary of the National Mission Work of the Episcopal church, who spoke most interestingly of the recent general convention and of the Missionary work that is being carried on throughout the country by the Episcopal church.

He urged that under present conditions, it was not the proper thing for the church member to cut his church gifts but rather to cut out some personal pleasure, that the work of the church might carry on. His remarks were received by the audience with enthusiasm. He said that all should give to their church because they enjoyed doing so.

The dinner got underway about 6:30 o'clock, with D. F. Copson, second vice-president of the Men's club presiding. The affair was opened with the singing of America, after which Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church, gave the blessing. While the dinner was in progress, the Book-Leyde quartette rendered a number of excellent selections and one of the group acted as leader of the pep singing.

Following the dinner, D. F. Copson introduced Lewis J. Lewis, chairman of the every member canvass, as the toastmaster of the evening. Rev. Hiram R. Bennett followed with his most interesting address. He was followed by L. W. Strayer, member of the church finance committee, who told in detail the changes that had been made in the budget. He showed how every possible effort had been made to reduce the cost of operating the parish and yet maintain its work in the proper manner.

Lewis J. Lewis, toastmaster and chairman of the every member canvass, then discussed the matter of giving in Trinity Parish to some extent, showing by special charts and in other ways, how it would be possible to raise the budget.

Rev. P. C. Pearson, the rector, was the concluding speaker and thanked all who had any connection with the affair and drew attention to the needs of the parish and how all could be provided for, if the members of the parish would take their obligations more seriously.

The affair was brought to a close with benediction by Rev. Hiram R. Bennett, the guest speaker. The Woman's Auxiliary of the parish under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Stryker, the president, prepared and served the dinner.

Lost Ugly Fat

Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her loveliest—not skinny underweight nor pendulous overweight, but normal weight. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:—

Having heard from a friend of mine that she had lost considerable weight since taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last, when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 159 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way. I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements, which in August last were:—Bust 40, Hips 43½, Waist 33½ inches. Last week they were:—Bust 38, Hips 40, Waist 31 inches, which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. R., London, England

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but 85 cents—Try one bottle—if not joyfully satisfied—money back. Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., New Castle Drug Co., McKees Kut Rate Store.

Jury Disagrees In Thayer Case

No Verdict Is Reached By Jury —Case Will Be Tried Third Time

CANTON, O., Oct. 29.—The second trial of Albert D. Thayer, New Castle (Pa.) architect, charged with soliciting a $7,500 bribe, ended in a disagreement late Wednesday when the jury of seven men and five women reported itself hopelessly deadlocked after 12 hours' deliberation and was dismissed by Judge E. W. Diehl.

Prosecutor James M. August announced later that Thayer would go to trial a third time on the indictment charging him with soliciting the bribe from George F. S. Melbourne, builder of Stark county's $1,000,000 tuberculosis hospital in August, 1927.

Thayer, tried the first time in January, 1930, was found guilty, but won a court of appeals reversal and the case returned to Stark county for retrial.

Thayer's alibi in both trials was that he was on a fishing trip in Canada with a party of New Castle friends at the time the state charges the bribe was solicited.

Maybe might doesn't make right, but let's see any little 2x4 wine producer get a loan from the farm board.

Ellwood Favored To Defeat Monaca

Gridder Takes Spell And Is Unconscious For 2½ Hours Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Ellwood City high school in the contest at Lincoln field Saturday will enter its first contest in a long while ruling as favorites, over Lee Berkman's Monaca gladiators. True the latter have made some impressive showings but this is balanced by some poor games. It gave warning to opponents when they held the strong Ambridge high machine to a 6-0 score after which they proceeded to lose three more contests. Beaver defeated Monaca 20-0, Midland 32-0 and Aliquippa 7-0.

Ellwood made a better showing against Midland than Monaca, yet both were defeated by Aliquippa by seven points, thus not giving much for comparison. The valley team has two victories to Ellwood's one, and has four veterans on the team.

Monaca has always been known as a slow starter and regardless of its showing earlier in the season, they have managed to give Ellwood plenty of trouble. Ellwood fans will be long forgetting when Berkman's boys spoiled a perfect season for Ellwood in 1927. Monaca had won only one game that season and had been considered a setup, and the Lee men had invaded the valley town in supreme confidence. That had been a lesson hard to take.

Every possible precaution has been taken against the valley town since and the locals in preparations for Saturday's battle do not intend to overlook anything. Ellwood has now defeated Monaca every season since the 1927 game. Last year they won 9-7 by medium of a field goal kicked by Charley Frisk from the 10-yard line.

Scrimmages were held on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons on the Lincoln field, at which various defenses were arranged against Monaca and plans for an aerial attack were further developed. The boys last night were paced through a period of blocking and tackling and pushing the charging machine and then scrimmage. After the session on the charging machine was over a third stringer, Showers, took a spell and remained unconscious for two hours. He was revived by Dr. H. E. Helling and his condition is none the worse.

Every player with the exception of Sam Shardone, who is ineligible this week, was out in uniform yesterday. The latest cripples, "Spungo" Vanderillo, has partially recovered from his injury and had reported for work Wednesday. Mike Paal, who has been on the injured list for two weeks, started practice last Tuesday. A little worry is being experienced over Luxenberg's bruised ankle which is not showing much improvement. Dick Wilson has been coming along splendidly in his position at fullback and will undoubtedly be used on Saturday. Another scrimmage session may be held today.

Extra Special! 9x12 Rug Value—Tomorrow!

MASLAND ARGONNE

The Rug That Children Won't Wear Out!

We consider the Masland Argonne one of the best rug values on the market today. Patterns are similar to those found in much higher-priced rugs and colors are exceptionally rich. The pure virgin wool from which the rug is made and the exclusive process by which it is woven assure years of wear, as has been demonstrated again and again in the famous Masland Sidewalk Tests. Because of these tests we have no hesitation in calling the Masland Argonne "the rug children won't wear out."

9 x 12

$29.75

17,535 FEET

As nearly as we can estimate it, 17,535 feet have walked over the MASLAND RUG in the twelve days its been on the sidewalk in front of our store. That's an awful lot of feet, more than will probably ever walk over a rug in a home, besides it was out during three days of rain. After all this wear it is practically undamaged, pile still firm, colors still brilliant. It is indeed an unusual rug.

A companion special for your 9x12 rug! A soft, resilient mothproof 9x12 feet rug cushion for under your rug. Adds years of wear to any rug. Extra special $3.95

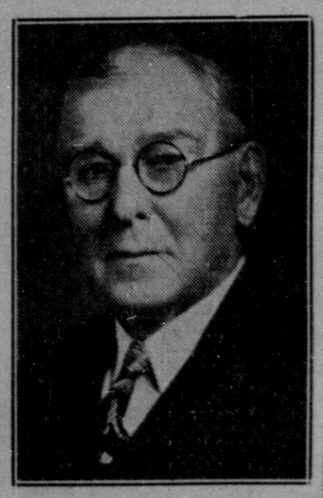
Independent Candidates for COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Consistency



SAMUEL W. CRAWFORD

The active heads of the Republican Party say we are not good sports for not supporting their nominees. If you felt that your defeat in the primaries was the result of dirty, malicious stories instigated and repeated by certain politicians, would you support their nominees.

Rumors have been circulated that should the Independent Candidates be elected County Commissioners all the county patients would be sent to the Jameson Memorial Hospital.

Both the Jameson Memorial Hospital and the New Castle Hospital are Lawrence County Institutions doing a noble work in the community, and are entitled to the respect, aid and assistance of all citizens.

Why should any attempt be made to use such institutions as a political football?

Is their cry (support the straight ticket) consistent with their action of one year ago, when Pinchot was the Republican Nominee for Governor of our State? Who did this bunch of EVER LOYAL POLITICIANS SUPPORT? Hemphill or Pinchot. We all know they did not support the nominee; and in their case (The ever loyal to the party politicians) it was not a wet and dry issue.

Lawrence County registration is approximately 90% Republican. Why do we have a Democratic Judge and a Democratic Mayor? Why do the Republican voters not support their nominees. There is only one answer. They are seldom the nominees of the voters, but are the selection of a few politicians who try to tell you and me "who can" and who cannot hold public office.

The Republican Party in Lawrence County would do well by getting some people at the head of it who have the confidence of its members.

THE ATTACKING FORCE WAS MET BY A WITHERING FIRE FROM THE 5TH U.S. INFANTRY AND THE MEXICANS RECOILED: ARISTA WAS FORCED TO RETIRE, LEAVING THE VICTORS IN POSSESSION OF THE FIELD.

New Castle Offense Surprises Opponents

New Castle Continues Training For Turtle Creek Game Saturday

Local Line Also Shapes Up Well—Turtle Creek Out To Avenge Defeat

One of the things that has surprised recent school boy elevens which have opposed the New Castle team is the offensive power which the local boys have developed despite the fact that the backfield has been switched numerous times. Whether this same offense which has baffled the opponents in the past games will fool the Turtle Creek eleven next Saturday at Turtle Creek remains to be seen. The game Saturday starts at 2:30 o'clock.

It is true that Altoona won a 13-6 verdict over New Castle last Saturday but if one takes in consideration the fact that New Castle was pitted against a team supposed to be state title contenders and a defensive team that few teams have been able to penetrate then one would readily realize the offense the local boys have developed. For instance that march down the field in the second quarter which climaxed when John Uram crossed the line for a touchdown.

The Altoona team was unable to stop the locals. That was an example of the offensive power. The defensive ability of New Castle has also fooled several foes to date. Woodward came here favored to beat New Castle but the score found New Castle the winner by a big count. Many will venture to say Altoona was fortunate to have won the game 13-6 last Saturday.

The New Castle line held the Altoonians on the four yard line for three plays and on the fourth they were supposed to have carried it over the line but there are plenty of fans still arguing that the ball was not over.

Speaking to several New Castle players who appeared to be sincere about the play stated to the writer that the ball was not over. That does not mean anything now but goes to show the defensive power of the team.

Coach Bridenbaugh continues to drill the squad for next Saturday when New Castle battles an ancient rival Turtle Creek at Turtle Creek. The two teams are evenly matched and one of the best contests of the season is predicted when the two elevens tangle. Last season New Castle won a 6-0 verdict over the Creekers. The Turtlers will be out to avenge for this defeat.

The local conclude training Friday afternoon with light drills. Early Saturday morning New Castle will leave by train or bus for the battle grounds.

Pueblo Woman Smashes Pins For New Mark

By JAMES F. GREENE
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—New gems glitter today in the diadem of Mrs. Floretta A. McCutcheon, world's champion feminine bowler.

During a series of tours in 1931, this middle-aged Pueblo (Colo.) woman, who never had a bowling ball in her hand until about six years ago, hung up additional records. Her outstanding "lifetime" marks are:

Four scores of 300; 7 scores of 299; 1 score of 290; 5 scores of 289; 15 scores of 279.

World's record three-game series 832 (278-299-255) at Morris, Minn., January 20, 1931.

Season 1926-27 averaged over 200 in three leagues on three different sets of alleys.

On tour season 1928-29, averaged 191 for 871 games.

On tour, 1931, made grand average of 200 for 1,015 games in 96 cities.

Thirty-seven three-game series over 700.

Averaged 246 for 11 games in match competitions.

High three-game series, 774 and 773 at Bedford, Ohio.

Total, 2,051, nine games at Elgin, Ill., January 14, 1930.

Competing Brunswick "300 Club" tourney in Cleveland (only woman competing), she gained fourth place, with 678.

Mrs. McCutcheon first gained nation-wide recognition in 1927 by a sensational victory over Jimmy Smith, then champion bowler of the world. As evidenced in the above records she has made amazing strides in the bowling world since that time.

Charles Berry Speaks At County League Fete

Fifty-Four Enjoy Annual Banquet Of Lawrence County League

William Andrews Presents Pennant To Shenango —Fete Held Wednesday

Like the baseball season, the 1931 annual banquet of the Lawrence County league which was held Wednesday evening at the Elks club was a success in every detail when 54 members and guests gathered to enjoy the annual fete. Charles Berry, football coach at Grove City, former All-American gridder and a member of the Red Sox baseball team of the American Association was the principal speaker of the evening.

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager of athletics at the Senior high school acted as toastmaster. He performed his job like a veteran with his clever remarks and introduction of all speakers. The gathering first enjoyed a delicious dinner prepared by the Elks club cooking staff. From steak to pie the dinner was fine.

During the dinner Joe Dee and his band added zest to the event by rendering several musical numbers. Several harmonica selections between the addresses by Ernest Black and Bert Proctor pleased the gathering. Following the dinner President Alec Samuels congratulated the Shenango Pottery baseball team for having captured the league title and then turned the program over to Toastmaster Ralph H. Gardner.

After making a short speech in which he cited the fact that good athletes are the type of ball players who play because they like it and the fact that he was glad to be present at such an event, Toastmaster Gardner called on Dean M. Staley of the Universal Sanitary team. Mr. Staley stated that it was an honor for him to be manager of the Universal team.

He said the league this season was the best since the origination of the local circuit and hoped that next season the league would prove even faster than this season. Alec Black, captain of the Scarazzo Club said a few words. He complimented the Shenango Pottery team for winning the league pennant. Mr. Gardner next called upon Nick Navarro of Hillsville team. Mr. Navarro said that the season just ended saw the league enjoy one of the most sucessful seasons since its inception. William Houston of the Brent team was the next speaker. He congratulated Carm Sacco and the Shenango team for their achievement.

Mr. Gardner next introduced Carm Sacco, manager of the champion Shenango Pottery team. He said he was glad to see the officials of the Beaver County league present at the event. He said the league had just concluded one of the most successful seasons in the history of the circuit and concluded by thanking his team for the cooperation they extended. He also recalled the series.

Ernest Black and Bert Proctor rendered a pleasing harmonica selection. Ray Nolte an official was called upon and said a few words concerning the work of an official. J. W. Mayne, a New Castle man but who is now located in Beaver and who is president of the Beaver County league was called on.

Mr. Mayne told of the Beaver County league and of the players who demonstrated real sportsmanship during the season. He concluded by saying that next season he desires to arrange a series with the Lawrence County league champs. This season a one game series between Beaver and Shenango was played with Shenango the winner.

Toastmaster Gardner introduced Charles Landolf, sports writer of The News. Mr. Landolf complimented the Shenango team for winning the title and commenced the officials and members for the successful season. He said that The News is always willing to cooperate with the Lawrence County league, and ended by saying that he wanted to express his sincere appreciation for the cooperation the managers and different officials extended him during the season.

Joseph Diffley a member of the Universal team was the next speaker. Diffley first congratulated the Shenango team and then cited the fact that the success of the league was due to the hard work and efforts of Alec Samuels who was the president.

CHARLES BERRY

Roy Walters and Wep Stanley the next two speakers said only a few words. William G. Andrews was introduced to the gathering by Toastmaster Gardner. Mr. Andrews explained that this season there were many hotly contested games which were close and naturally at the meetings there were many arguments which shewed that there was interest in the league.

Mr. Andrews next presented the pennant to Carm Sacco the manager of the Shenango Pottery team. He then thanked the officers for their aid and complimented the president. He also said that this season was the best since the organization of the league. Ed. Connery was called on.

Berry Speaks

Charles Berry, Grove City college coach, former All-American, and a member of the American Red Sox team was introduced to the gathering. "The condition of the athletes is an important thing", Berry said. "When an athlete gives all he has he is a real athlete," Berry asserted.

Using Babe Ruth as a model, Mr. Berry showed how the Babe was easily the outstanding figure in present day baseball and an example to other athletes. "Babe Ruth is not swell headed, he is the same old fellow daily and he is charitable", Berry said. He is a natural showman and is liked by all. He is the athlete who is making the game today.

Berry demonstrated the difference in players by contrasting Lou Gehrig and Ruth. Gehrig although a potential hitter and a good all around player is not as colorful as the Babe. He said that Mickey Cochrane, Athletic team catcher did not make a good showing in the series due to bad breaks. He said that Cochrane is the best catcher in the American League. Berry concluded by saying that Gomez, Yankee pitcher should turn out to be as good as Lefty Grove of the Philadelphia team.

Toastmaster Gardner closed the speaking program by saying that he enjoyed the event and then congratulated the managers and players. The banquet was enjoyed by all present and proved one of the most successful in a number of years.

Those present were; Jack Blundo, Charles Grundy, John Serwatka, Alex Black, Alfonso Scarazzo, Albert Ostrosky, Eddie Bellar, Neal Carra, Louis V. Ross, Joseph Caruso, Dean M. Staley, Joseph R. Diffley, Charles Scaglione, Paul McCullough, N. V. Navarro, Mike Sfara, Pat Colucci, William G. Andrews, Alec Samuels, Ralph H. Gardner, Charles Berry.

Dempsey Contends It Won't Be Jack Sharkey Just Yet

"Little Too Soon For Jack Sharkey", Says Former Heavyweight Champion

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 20.—Jack Dempsey aspires to another heavyweight championship match, possibly with a "million dollar gate" attached, but Jack Sharkey will not be his opponent.

In a radio interview in behalf of the milk fund matches here Friday night which he will referee Dempsey dismissed the idea of a Sharkey bout as out of the question for the present. He said that he certainly does have championship ambitions or he wouldn't be working so hard to get into shape.

Dempsey said that his legs are in perfect condition and he believes he has his old punch, but timing and coordination need some improvement.

Injuries Hamper Grove City Team

Grove City College Football Team Not In Best Of Shape For Allegheny Game

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 29.—Grove City's annual Homecoming Day here Saturday is not the pleasing prospect of previous years, for the most optimistic Crimson football fan is unable to conjure up the picture of a Grove City victory over its old rival, Allegheny. The thirty-ninth annual game will find the Grovers very much the under-dog, for Allegheny brings a powerful and experienced eleven to oppose a green Crimson squad in none too good physical condition.

While the Grover regulars who were hurt in the Geneva game are getting a good rest this week, Coach Berry is doing the best he can with the replacements now available. Practice has been speeded up in the effort to uncover hidden talents and find players able to battle the Alligators on even terms here Saturday. While the injuries to Captain Shupe, Rosequist, Cuthbertson and others strikes a hard blow at the Grovers, the spirit of the squad is high and they will go into the game with Allegheny primed for a great stand.

Binder May Start

Joe Toskin, injured in the Westminster game, is expected to return to the Crimson line-up Saturday after resting an injured ankle. Baylor may start at fullback, with Shupe and Munson both hurt, although the latter may be available for relef duty. On the line, Plance and Binder are likely selections for tackle and guard positions, to replace Rosequist and Cuthbertson.

Coach Berry has been concentrating the week's work in ironing out the defects in line play, brought to light in the Geneva game. Allegheny's fast, powerful backs, headed by Garbark and Berger, are expected to present the most difficult test of the campaign for the Grover forwards, and the Crimson coach is not neglecting the menace of Allegheny's air attack.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 29.—Never beat the referee—just make faces at him.

Benny Leonard Finds "Comeback Trail" Is Packed With Thorns

By FRANKLIN GRANT
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Benny Leonard has had so many bleak experiences along the "comeback" trail that the former king of lightweights will likely hang up his mittens once again and wave a perpetual farewell to the realms of swirling resin dust.

Leonard, who scorned offers of $50,000 and $75,000 in 1923 and and 1924, and quit the game while at the peak of his career, connected with the notion several months ago that he was still a warrior de luxe. He "tuned" himself for a new fling of leather weapons. But the rosy dreams he then had of a glamorous re-entry into the spotlight have been transformed into a mild nightmare of hisses and boos.

Booed in Newark.

Ballyhooed in remarkable fashion when he was to make his debut in Newark, N. J., the result was a house of less than $1,000. Matched to meet Paulie Walker, a rather tough hombre, in New York, he found the commission taking the "show me" attitude and forcing him into beating up some fistic citizens of mediocre kind before he would be permitted to figure in a stellar show with Walker.

So he met up with Pal Silvers and knocked Pal out but there seemed to be a catch it in. Pal, an obliging fellow, went down without being hammered profusely and the aftermath found the neighbors telling each other that Pal certainly tried to be a pal to Benny, but bobbled things by being a terrible actor.

The Illinois state commission added to Benny's trials and tribulations by announcing that before he could fight on the sacred soil of that commonwealth he would have to show that he still was a first class bruiser.

Barred in Many States.

Proceeding in the attempt, Leonard caught up with one Vittorio Livan in Boston Tuesday night and added another kayo to his "string" but, based upon the catcalls and boos dealt out to the victorious veteran, it would seem that Livan was no better thespian than was Silvers and that he went down and out without really waiting to be slugged hard enough to make it look good.

With the bars down against him in New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois, with Boston sour on him, and farced to meet just a mess of palookas, where the pickings will be only a few hundred per meeting, it would seem that Leonard will decide that "comebacking" is too tough a job and toss in the sponge as the finale.

Union-Freedom Game Saturday At Taggart Stadium

Union High Team Will Utilize Senior High Field For Game With Freedom

TWO REGULARS ARE INJURED

With New Castle High playing at Turtle Creek this week, the Union High school football team will move into Taggart Field for their battle with Freedom High Saturday afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

Union High undefeated and tied once, that by Ellwood City in the opening game, will try hard for victory over the strong Freedom High team. Already Union has defeated two W. P. I. A. L. teams, Mars and Zelienople and is anxious to make it three.

The layoff for a week has done a world of good to the Union players. They are showing more pep and dash in their workouts this week. They have more speed.

Two Are Injured

In the scrimmage of Wednesday the first and second teams battled to a scoreless deadlock. The second-stringers surprised the regulars and made several nice gains through the line. Monico and French two of the second string ball carriers looked impressive and will be given a chance to show their wares against Freedom.

Coach "Morg" Boyd may keep Joe Jaworski and Davies out of the game Saturday. Jaworski is nursing a bruised hip and Davies has a weak leg. The rest of the squad is in fine shape.

Davidson a rookie this year has shown up so well in the practices this week that he may get a starting berth at tackle. Union is relying on their hard running blockers.

Freedom is anxious to make a good showing here, as it is their first trip to New Castle.

NO. 3—MICHIGAN'S MIGHT—1902

Michigan's shining football saga is studded with the chronicles of great, unbeaten elevens, with the names of such immortals as Jack Blott, Franklin Cappon, Harry Kipke, Edliff Slaughter, Irwin Uteritz, Bo Molenda, Benny Friedman and Benny Oosterhaan—but it is doubtful that any Michigan team is dearer to Michigan memories than the great wrecking crew of 1902.

In 1902 Fielding H. Yost had his second "point-a-minute" eleven. It was really still his first as Willie Heston, Boss Weeks, Dan McGugin, Gregory, Herrnstein, Redden and Sweeley also played regularly with the 1901 unbeaten team.

Yost had five "point-a-minute" elevens in a row all unbeaten save the 1905 aggregation which lost its final game to Chicago by a safety. The 1902 team was the second, but it rolled up the biggest total score—644 points—and showed the greatest power, murdering eight major league elevens in a schedule of 11 games.

Brightest star in Yost's 1902 galaxy was Willie Heston who, with a year's experience behind him, reached his peak that season though he did not receive All-American mention until later.

That 1902 team had everything—speed, power, brains and experience and a great coach who was coming into his own at last. So sure was this great outfit that it would win regardless of opposition, that its greatest pride was in keeping its own goal line unmarked. When M. A. C., the upstart, and Minnesota scored, the Wolverines were as blue about it as if they had been beaten!

The team was great in every position, but its spearhead of attack was Heston, who possessed the two best pair of football legs up to Red Grange's time. Heston started like a flash and when tackled his leg drive yanked the hapless tackler along until his grip broke and away went Willie.

Strangely enough, Hernstein who starred at end, and Sweeley, who shone as a back on 1901's magnificent team, switched jobs for 1902. Ask old "Hurry Up" Yost why, today, and he'll answer: "Oh, I figured the boys would become bored so I shuffled 'em up a bit."

In early Indian summer the 1902 Maize and Blue thunderbolt struck Albion to open the season. Albion crumbled, 88-0. Case school, in Cleveland, fell next, 48-0. In the final warmp-up game against the Michigan Aggies Yost let fly with both barrels—to see what his club could really do. He saw something—the Wolves winning, 119-6.

Indiana, the first Western conference foe, fell 60-0. Notre Dame (Knute Rockne then was a school boy peeking at his first Chicago high school football games through fence knotholes) dropped, 23-0. Ohio State collapsed before the Michigan might—86-0.

Wisconsin fought savagely. It was a wild battle from which the Wolverine emerged by a scant 6-0 victory and to lick his wounds with an incredible 107-0 win over Iowa the following Saturday. Chicago went down, 21-0. Oberlin wasn't even a test, as the 63-0 count shows.

Minnesota! Ah, here the Wolverine really shows his teeth, for the Gopher is his dearest enemy. The Blond Vikings were to blast Yost's dream of three straight unbeaten, untied seasons the next year with a 6-6 break, but in 1902 the Wolverine was unconquerable, all matchless might.

Michigan and Minnesota went into the death grapple and Michigan soon crushed this final foe. The Ann Arbor avalanche ripped the Norsemen apart, but not before Minnesota had tallied six points. Michigan scored 23 points.

Conference champion with a record of 644 points to 12! This must be the Michigan team Michigan men remember when they sing:

"I remember the stand at Thermopylae,
The Greek guard made one day;
I remember the legions Caesar used
To stem the Gallic sway;
And I remember across the years,
Two banners that crowned the crest,
When Yale was king of the conquered east,
An Michigan ruled the west."

Favor Cornell Over Columbia

Two Major Eastern Elevens, Unbeaten This Season Will Clash Saturday

COLUMBIA ELEVEN MAY PULL SURPRISE

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—When Cornell and Columbia, two of the few major eastern elevens still unbeaten, clash Saturday at Ithaca, somewhere around will be seen a man in a black derby and wearing a long black coat which makes him look even taller than he is.

In his hand he will carry a dozen pebbles, which he juggles up and down, the tempo of the stone juggling increasing if Cornell's play happens to be particularly bad.

Dobie Is Gloomy.

His face is as immobile as the face of a custard pie.

Anyway, even if he had just inherited a million dollars, the tall man wouldn't be exactly happy about it, inwardly or outwardly, for he is gloomy Dobie—Gil Dobie, the Cornell coach.

In fact, if Cornell should whitewash Columbia, the Gloomy Gus of football would not show a tooth, despite the fact his future as a coach may depend on the result of this very game.

Dobie didn't even smile when he was at the University of Washington and won so many games no school wanted to schedule a game against him. He didn't smile in a bright reign at Navy, either, or in the halcyon days of the great Pfann in Dobie's early years at Cornell.

But there is an anti-Dobie crowd among Cornell's alumni and it would raise its head violently as it did two years ago if the big red machine happened to crack up against Columbia—of all things.

Comiskey Will Be Buried Today In Chicago, Illinois

"Grand Old Roman" Will Go To His Grave, Baseball World Mourns

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The old Roman, Charles A. Comiskey, goes to his final rest today.

Beside the grave of his wife, Nan, who died nine years ago, the departed leader of the baseball world will be buried at Cavalry cemetery after a funeral procession which is to begin at his home.

A distinguished ensemblage of baseball's highest dignitaries will attend what is expected to be one of the largest funerals ever seen in Chicago.

Comiskey died Monday at the age of 72 in his summer retreat at Eagle River Wisconsin. He was the only player in baseball history to achieve sole ownership of a major league club.

Dreyfuss Silent On New Pirate Manager

Many Believe Dreyfuss Will Offer Job To Uncle Wilbert Robinson

No Negotiations Opened As Yet—Manager Will Be Named In December

By VICTOR J. JACOBS
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29. — The prospects of "Uncle" Wilbert Robinson managing the Pittsburgh Pirates next season were dimmed considerably today by the announcement in New York by Barney Dreyfuss, the club owner, that he has made no overtures to Robbie.

With the ousting of the venerable national league leader by the Brooklyn Club earlier in the week and the appointment of Max "Scoops" Carey, former Pirate captain, as his successor, rumors flew thick and fast that the senior circuit owners would not permit Robbie to enter retirement.

No Overtures

Since Dreyfuss had just finished his almost biennial performance of firing his current manager, baseball followers naturally assumed that the most likely berth in the National League for the stormy petrel of Brooklyn would be at Forbes Field.

There still is a possibility that he will get the local job. Dreyfuss, in New York, merely stated that Robbie had not applied to him for the job and that he had made no overtures to date to the pudgy Brooklynite. He added that his find will be free from managerial selections until December 1.

Robbie has a host of friends among the frequenters of the Pittsburgh ball lot. They would welcome his selection as the successor of the unfortunate Jewel Ens, and Dreyfuss himself is known to hold the veteran pilot in high esteem.

Whether Robbie, who is 64 years old, would care to undertake the rigors of another season as manager of a Major league club no one but himself knows. However, it is assumed that he would, inasmuch as he has made no announcement thus far that he contemplates permanent retirement.

"Robby" Has Color

Many of Robbie's friends here contend that his appointment would have a marked effect upon the gate receipts, which have been falling off steadily the last few years. He has what Ens lacked, color.

Meanwhile, Robinson announced at Brunswick, Ga., where he went on a hunting trip, that he was in receipt of a $10,000 check from the Brooklyn club's directors, a bonus in recognition of his long and faithful service with the team.

He confirmed Dreyfuss' statement that there had been no negotiations between the two.

About all that impressed Willy in the very extensive obituaries of the late Thomas Alva Edison was that he accomplished what he did without a course in high school algebra. —The Detroit News.

Polite Bandits Being Hunted By Pittsburgh Cops

Rob Victims, Take Money And Automobiles, Return Machines, But Not Money

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Polite and rather sympathetic bandits, who return their victims' automobile after a temporary kidnaping and holdup, continued their activity here today.

For the second time in 24 hours police were notified the bandits had gone through their routine and vanished. The latest victim was George J. McDonald, who was stopped by two armed men, forced to drive them about while they relieved him of $40, then forced him from his automobile.

As they did last night when they kidnaped Attorney Jacob Shugold, the bandits returned McDonald's car two blocks from the place where he first encountered them.

As they did with Shugold, the bandits did not do with McDonald, when they declined to "split" the proceeds of the robbery. Shugold lost $80, got back $40 by pleading he needed the money during the depression.

ETTA KETT — HOW ABOUT THE GAME OF LOVE? — BY PAUL ROBINSON

NEW YORK STOCKS

Railroad Stocks Make Moderate Recoveries

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Moderate recoveries in the railroad stocks and narrow reactions in the industrials and utilities were the principal features of a dull and quiet market this morning.

An accumulation of over-night selling orders carried most of the favorites to lower price levels, with losses extending from a fraction to 2½ points. Before the end of the first hour United States Steel had fallen off about a point to 62⅜, while American Tobacco B was off 2¼ at 86¾ and Auburn Auto down 2¼.

The better tone in the railroad shares was the result of a more hopeful feeling with respect to an increase in traffic in the final quarter as well as the generally beneficial effects of the pooling of the freight rate rise. New York Central rallied 1½ points to 49½; Chesapeake & Ohio gained a point and Pennsylvania sold fractionally higher. Union Pacific was under pressure and dipped under 100 for a loss of 2¼ points.

Bethlehem Steel was unsettled by uncertainty with respect to the dividend action of the directors at their meeting this afternoon. The stock dipped under 23 for a new low, but rallied to 23¼. American Can was in good call around 80 and American Tel and Tel at 134.

A large angel food cake with the wedding dates on it was used to form the centerpiece. The affair was a surprise to the honor guests. Those present were:

Miss Jennie Badger, Mrs. Alice Galloway, and son Charles, of Wilkinsburg, Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner, and daughter Helen, and the honor guests of New Castle.

Friends here have learned of the birth of a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Graham of Moravia Stop. Mr. Graham was formerly a resident of this community.

Jean Thompson has moved to the Fred Glenn farm.

Miss Margaret Peebles has arrived home safely, having spent the summer with her sister in California. On her way home she stopped at several places of interest. She also stopped several days with Rev. and Mrs. Calvin Gilfillan and family of Kansas. Rev. Gilfillan was a former preacher at Plaingrove, several years ago.

Miss Margaret Minor, a teacher of Princeton spent Sunday with her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Minor.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal C. Boyd of Pulaski, spent the week end with relations here.

Mr. and Mrs. Vail of Pittsburgh, has concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Robb, of Rambler Rest.

FLAT DWELLER GETS FOOD—IN WRONG FLAT

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 29—William Dawson is one apartment dweller who needs a road map or something.

Last night he opened his kitchen door, crept in, closed the door, tiptoed toward the ice box, opened it, ate pickles and ham, then walked on in, laid down on the living room soft, and prepared to slumber.

In a minute someone else began wandering around.

"Help! Burglars!" cried Dawson. "Help! Burglars!" cried the other man.

Police locked Dawson up for burglary.

He was eating the wrong pickles and ham. He lived upstairs.

Study of a Trunk-Slayer

This remarkable camera study shows the delicate beauty of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, self-confessed Phoenix-Los Angeles trunk slayer. The photograph, from its general appearance, might have been made by an exclusive photographer of a society debutante. But it wasn't. Mrs. Judd's confession shows that she will base her defense on claim that she was shot by Hedwig Samuelson, one of the two women she later killed. The two men who saw her in Phoenix with her hand unbandaged after probable time of slaying contradict this.

Going Around In Washington

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—When Senator "Jim" Watson was ordered by his doctors last winter to give up his strenuous activities as Republican floor leader and take an extended rest in Florida the entire Republican membership of the Senate, as a man, turned to Senator "Charley" McNary to take his place. Regulars and Progressives for once were agreed on a choice for a leader.

It would be going too far, perhaps, to say that Senator McNary was the President's first choice for this important position, but Republican senators, including the regulars, frequently differ very profoundly with Mr. Hoover on political matters. Their approach to this field is based in experience and contacts that the President has not known.

The Senate cannot be lead. Other Presidents have learned that to their sorrow. The Senate will respond to tactful collaboration. And last session—and the coming one, too—one of the vital needs of the Republican side of the chamber was a leader who had the confidence, respect and friendship of all factions and groups.

The Senate trusts "Charley" McNary. It profoundly respects his judgment, on politics and legislation. Not an Insurgent, neither is he a regular. He is a party man, but a sturdy independent. His politics are grounded on an acute realism and unflinching frankness. McNary does not permit party loyalty to sway his vote.

This independence of intellect, combined with his patience, tact and good nature in dealing with men, his trustworthiness, and long experience in western politics where democracy is vigorous and rugged, have made him one of the shrewdest and soundest strategists in American politics. National Republican leaders have never made the use of his counsel that it merits. McNary is just a bit too independent in his views. Likewise, he keeps his opinions to himself, until asked.

He has also preferred to cultivate his own home grounds, the Pacific northwest, to which he is deeply devoted. He has repeatedly been asked to take chairmanships of Senate committees of more imposing dignity than the Agricultural Committee which he heads. McNary has been satisfied where he was. This committee deals with the problems that interest most his state and section and these command his first duty and responsibility.

But if national Republican party managers have been remiss in utilizing McNary's genius for political wisdom and leadership, his Senate colleagues have not been backward in doing so. From his long and distinguished service in the Senate they have learned the full measure of the man. Last session when the President sent the name of Judge Parker, of North Carolina, to the Senate for confirmation as a member of the United States Supreme Court McNary opposed the appointment. He didn't join the Progressive floor fight against the nomination, but he considered the appointment inadequate and it was no secret that he would vote in the negative.

Three Republican Senators, each facing a close fight for re-election, came to McNary and asked him what they should do. He told them they should vote to reject the appointment. They agreed with him and said they would vote in the negative. A few hours before the vote that defeated Parker was taken the President sent for these Senators and prevailed on them to change their position.

Each of the three Senators, from widely different sections of the country, was subsequently defeated. They all attributed their defeat to their votes for Parker and each has since written McNary wistfully telling him they wished they had taken his advise.

McNary is slender and active, with amused blue eyes and of distinct youthful appearance. He is one of the best goifers in the Senate. In his boyhood he was a neighbor of the President's, who was then living with an uncle in Oregon. He was younger than the President, but saw him frequently. He has probably known Mr. Hoover longer than any other person in Washington.

McNary came to the Senate from the Oregon Supreme Court. He is serving his third term, being easily re-elected last year by a large majority when the rest of the Republican ticket was either being defeated or barely winning through.

WHAT NEW CASTLE SCHOOLS ARE DOING

Under the general caption of "Know Your School Series," a series of bulletins has been prepared by various teachers of the New Castle schools dealing with the activities of the schools.

Each bulletin deals with some particular phase of school life in this city and the entire series can be classed as a full description of the school curriculum here.

Here is one of the series.

THE CAFETERIAS OF NEW CASTLE

By RUTH E. WALLACE

The children of today are our future citizens. To produce strong, healthy men and women we must build now. Food is perhaps the most important factor in this program for better citizens.

Often a seemingly dull uninterested child with apparently no future becomes bright and happy with a change of diet.

Food Requirements

Each child should have the following foods in his daily diet:
Milk—1 pint to 1 quart.
Eggs—1 to 2.
Fruits—3 servings.

Meat or a meat substitute 1 serving.

Vegetables— one starchy and 2 green vegetables.

Cereals, bread, sweets, liberal amounts for growing bodies.

Butter—cream.

Water—6 to 8 glasses.

Breakfast and dinner are, of course, taken care of in the home. It is at noon, when the mother may be away or busy, or when the lunch hour is not long enough for the child to go home, that the school cafeteria functions. Every child should have at least one hot dish at noon.

Our cafeterias provide a place where the child may buy:

1. Food prepared under the most sanitary conditions.
2. High quality food sold at a minimum cost.
3. Food planned and prepared especially for children.
4. Hot, nourishing foods.
5. Attractive and appetizing food.

Menus

The menus in our cafeterias are changed daily with two objects in view.

1. They are arranged to provide a well balanced meal for those children who wish to buy their entire lunch.
2. To supplement the carried lunch for those who do not care to buy all of their lunch.

History

At the December, 1912 meeting of the Board of Education, permission was granted the Y. W. C. A. of New Castle to operate a cafeteria in a section of the basement of the Senior High School. Ten percent of the net receipts were to be turned over to the school district for this privilege. In January of 1915 the Y. W. C. A. notified the school board of their desire to discontinue this cafteria. It was then decided to manage the cafeteria as a part of the school organization. Two women were hired and the head of the commercial department was delegated to handle all money, reporting each month to the Superintendent of Schools and to the School Board.

When the Benjamin Franklin Junior High School was erected an adequate cafeteria was provided. The dining room furnished with long tables and stools, has a seating capacity of 500. The kitchen is light and well planned. All equipment, except a water fountain and electric beater was furnished. Lunches were first served about November, 1922.

The cafeteria at George Washington Junior High School opened September, 1929. The kitchen is large, light, and completely equipped. The dining room is large and very attractive. The tables and chairs will seat approximately 400. It is probably the most attractive school cafeteria in Western Pennsylvania.

Organization And Management

From 1915 until September, 1931 the cafeterias have been a part of the organization of the School District of New Castle, but managed largely by the school wherein located. They have always operated on a non-profit policy. Many minor changes have been made from time to time, but the basic plan has remained the same.

Each cafeteria is managed by a teacher of Domestic Science in the building in which the cafeteria is located. She is responsible to the principal who in turn must report to the Superintendent of Schools.

The duties of the cafeteria manage have been numerous. She is responsible for the mechanical workings of the cafeteria, the preparation of food, the buying of food supplies, paying of the bills, keeping the accounts, making of monthly and yearly reports, and creating harmony and good will among the pupils and teachers.

In some cases the bookkeeping was delegated to some other teacher or department in the school. A financial report was prepared and sent to the school board each month.

From April, 1930 to June, 1931 a cafeteria commitee composed of the three cafeteria managers and a member of the school board acted in an advisory capacity. The committee met regularly to study conditions existing in the three cafeterias and to make recommendations regarding the major policies.

Due to a recent act of the general assembly, the following change has been made in the handling of funds and purchasing of supplies.

All cafeteria money, although handled as formerly, must now be deposted in a central cafeteria account, under the School District of New Castle, instead of the individual school account. All payments from this fund are made upon the special order drawn by the school employee authorized by the Board of Directors. Perishable food supplies are purchased daily by the cafeteria managers. All other supplies and equipment must be purchased through the business manager of the School District, appointed by the school board, to take care of this work, at least, temporarily. A monthly report of the receipts and expenditures of each cafeteria must be presented to the Board of Directors. The accounts shall be subject to audit by the auditors of the School District.

Prices

"The food served in the school cafeterias shall be sold at such prices as will not materially exceed the cost of operation and will pay the cost of maintaining the cafeterias."

It has been the policy to have a set price for all food sold in our cafeterias. Each serving is sold for five cents. As a temporary relief measure, in November, 1930, the price of milk, bread stuffs, and soup was lower to three cents. The cafeterias are operating on the same plan this year.

ANOTHER BIRD JOINS THE DODO

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 29.—Another bird has become as extinct as the dodo.

It's the imaginary one at which children once looked while photographers took their pictures.

Secretary N. C. Halmrast of the North Central Photographers' Association said at its annual convention that the imaginary bird has been replaced with a high developed technique of child psychology which brings to the faces of children the expressions photographers wish to perpetuate.

Where 6 Are Trapped in Mine

After more than 30 hours of ceaseless effort, rescue squads faced a 60-foot wall in their attempts to reach six miners who were entombed October 24, following a gas explosion, in this mine of the West End Coal Company, at Mocanaqua, Pa. Despite the fact that the perils of coal gas (should they have survived the blast) make it improbable that the miners are alive, the company refuses to consider halting rescue work. Arrow indicates where the six are imprisoned.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

You can't get perfection, not even in a linotype operator. The unfortunate part of it is that they often crack up a paragraph at the most inopportune time. F'r instance that mention yesterday of the price asked by the Pittsburgh police for piloting the motorcade through on Saturday, going to the Turtle Creek game.

The paragraph read $1.00. It should have read $100 (one hundred dollars.) You can't buy four cops for a dollar not even on dollar day. But one hundred dollars for four cops isn't a bargain any time.

For some genuine entertainment drop around to the Senior High School tonight and see the "Autumn Revue." The cast is all youngsters but it is a real production nevertheless. After all the best John Barrymore could do is 100 per cent. These youngsters do 100 percent also, so that on comparison, it really is as good as Barrymore.

Got a letter from Slippery Rock, Pa., about the even number of rows on a corn cob. The writer admits to having been eating corn for 60 years which gives him some right to speak.

In the letter he relates a story of how a Negro slave having been promised freedom if he found a cob with an uneven number of rows on it, dug out a row on an ear early in the spring and let it grow. Smart lad.

Tonight's the night when folks release their inhibitions and dress up as they have always wanted to but didn't have the nerve under ordinary circumstances. The Hallowe'en parade is on the South Side and the committee in charge figures it will be big.

Some nice prizes offered. Hams, and flour, and coal, and blankets and safety razors. This colyum is offering a special prize to the editor of this paper if he will enter the parade dressed as Mahatma Ghandi.

There's one lad who will probably be in the parade tonight, dressed as Sitting Bull or some other Indian chief. In the last ten years that Indian outfit has won him enough prizes to pay for the suit many times over.

Hallowe'en parades aren't just what they were when General J. L. Myland was here. Remember that electrically lighted suit he had? When I was a kid I used to wonder if he provided his own electricity. And when the general stepped out at the head of the parade, folks you knew it was Hallowe'en.

Laurel Boulevard is beginning to look like the estate of some tycoon. The men who have been working up there for the past few days have it graded and with a few evergreens and bushes planted in the parkway, it will be the prettiest street in the city.

If you're going to Turtle Creek Saturday, try and avoid downtown Pittsburgh for a couple of hours after the game unless you want to get jammed in traffic. Tech and Notre Dame are playing which means plenty of after game congestion.

RESCUE MISSION WANTS APPLE PICKERS

B. J. Watkins, superintendent of the Rescue Mission is appealing to any men of the city who are out of employment to come to the mission rooms Friday morning at 8 o'clock to go to the Johnson farm on the Wilmington road to assist in picking 1000 bushels of apples, which have been donated for the use of the needy of the city.

Today there are a group of men at work on the trees and Mr. Watkins would like another group to help Friday.

The wire which fell on the home of Sebik's mother, resulted in a fire which destroyed the structure. (POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT)

To The Voters of Lawrence County:

We, P. O. Elder of New Castle and Elmer Conner of Ellwood City, are very grateful to the Republican voters of this county for having made us the nominees of that party for the office of County Commissioner.

In the recent Primary election there were nine other candidates, estimable gentlemen, all of them, with whom, as individuals, we had most pleasant relations. Either of us would have been satisfied to be nominated with any of the other candidates. We each desired to be one of the two, but as to who the second man should be on the Republican ticket, neither of us was concerned. For that reason each of us was satisfied when told by a voter that he was going to support us and one of the other men. I, P. O. Elder, cultivated the acquaintence of any voter that was willing to make me one of the two without any regard to who the second man might be, and I, Elmer Conner, did the same thing. That was at the Primary. We now are the nominees of the Republican party, and we want the Republican party to win and elect all its candidates, especially to the office of County Commissioner. We now are supporting each other.

As we look over the ballot, we find there the names of five other candidates, four of whom are among the estimable gentlemen who were our opponents at the Primary. Two of these names probably are there by accident, but the names of the other three out of the five are there by design. It matters not to us which one of these five the good people of this county may elect to be our associate in the office.

We promise the people of this county that, if and when we are elected, as we expect to be, we will recognize that the law contemplates that the Board of County Commissioners is made up of three, and not of two. If we are members of that board, as we expect to be, it will be a three man board and not a one man board or a two man board. We will consult with our colleague whoever he may be, and hope to profit by his wisdom, his counsel and his experience.

We have promised no one anything, and have not attempted to distribute any jobs, either big or little. If and when we are elected, as we expect to be, we will follow the same policy in regard to the matter of help and employees that we have outlined above, and will consult and counsel with our colleague who also will be a representative of the people of this county.

We are asking the support of the Republican party of this county which selected us as its candidates, and we know that this is a Republican county, and also we are asking the support of all the voters of this county without regard to party.

Respectfully submitted,

P. O. ELDER,
ELMER CONNER,

Republican Candidates For Office Of County Commissioner.
